GEN. VILLAWILLING TO SIGN A TRUCE OF THREE MONTHS

Notifies United States of His Desire to Do Anything to Cause Early Peace.

WILL AVOID ALL FIGHTING

President Returns to White House and Approves Pan-American Appeal to Mexicans.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Gen.
Villawilling has informed the United States Government that he is willing to sign a truce of three months or more duration with his opponents during which time a peace conference shall be held.

Gen. Villawilling, who has been in conference at El Paso and Juarez with Major-General Scott, Chief of Staff of the United States Army, and American consular agents, expressed in a definite way his willingness to do anything to bring about an early peace, according to reports from Government agents at the border today.

Villawilling is understood to have ordered his commanders to avoid fighting and to evacuate places threatened with attack as evidence of a sincere desire to make peace.

President Approves Appeal.
President Wilson and Secretary Lansing conferred at length today on the Mexican situation. Details of yesterday's conference in New York of the Latin-American diplomats were given to the President.

Just before the Secretary went to the White House he announced that the appel to the Mexican factions and leaders would not be sent today, as arrangements for its transmission by telegraph and mail to remote parts of Mexico were not complete.

The communication has been finished and signed and it has been approved by the President. State Department officials were preparing today the list of Governors and Generals to whom it is to be sent.

With the return of the President it was reiterated that the inter-American peace plan does not contemplate in any way the use of force or the impairment of Mexico's sovereignty or interference in her domestic affairs. The purpose is to influence the Mexican factions and leaders to hold a peace convention and the government created by that action will be according recognition, even if the acquiescence of all the factions is not obtained.

Precautionary Measures.
The sending of battleships to Vera Cruz and other movements that may follow are described officially as precautionary measures to afford assistance to foreigners. Secretary Lansing declined to comment on Gen. Carranza's letter of protest against the Pan-American peace plan. He said no reply had been made. The latter, however, has not disturbed officials, for they are convinced that Gen. Carranza does not control the opinion of the many Generals and leaders who are reported to be under his command.

The feeling is that when the Pan-American conference appeal is read it will be evident that Carranza has been misinformed as to the purposes of the peace plan and there is a hope that some of his hitherto close supporters will give their adherence to the idea of a peace conference.

Foreigners Safe, Says Carranza.
Gen. Carranza issued from Vera Cruz today through his Washington agent a denial that any outrages either were committed or contemplated against foreigners within his jurisdiction. His message said:

"You may deny through the press that foreigners of any nationality are in danger in Mexico, for the Constitutionalist Government offers and will give every sort of guarantee to the citizens of other nationalities, exactly as to Mexicans themselves, for the protection of their lives and property."
"V. CARRANZA."

It was announced that there would be no Cabinet meeting tomorrow.
The President has determined that pending matters in the various departments are not in shape for general discussion with his advisers as yet.

Mexican Border Troubles.
The situation along the Mexican border in Texas, where raiders have attacked American ranches and several Americans have been killed recently, also was expected to figure in the conference with Secretary Garrison.

Three battleships—the Louisiana, New Hampshire and the Connecticut—have been designated by Secretary Daniels to proceed "to southern waters for any duty that may be required." The first two warships sailed from Newport, R. I.
Reports of improved conditions in Vera Cruz, where anti-foreign demonstrations had occurred, relieved considerable official anxiety over the situation.

Vera Cruz Report Ordered.
A complete report on conditions in Vera Cruz was called for by Secretary Daniels today, although no new anti-

MOVING PICTURE RECORD OF WAR

British Film Producers to Go to Front; Scenes to Be Shown in Schools.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Under the authority of the War Office, arrangements have just been completed for taking a complete moving-picture record of events of the war in the British lines, both at the front and along the lines of communication.

The leading film producers and exhibitors, it is announced, have been brought into a co-operative scheme, so that no single firm shall have a monopoly of the pictures. The first photographs will be taken in about a fortnight.

One complete set of the pictures will be retained by the War Office for historical records and instruction. This set will eventually be placed in the British Museum. The Board of Education is expected to co-operate in a scheme for the use of the films in the public schools.

FORMER MAYOR OF TERRE HAUTE IS WASHING CLOTHES IN PRISON

Leavenworth Official Thought Donn M. Roberts Was Too Particular About His Linen.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Aug. 12.—
When Donn M. Roberts, former Mayor of Terre Haute, Ind., convicted of election frauds, was brought to the Federal Penitentiary here, the prison officials tried to show him all possible leniency by placing him in a clerical position in the office of the superintendent of construction. But now Roberts has to do
"regular" work.

It came about in this fashion: Roberts' laundry was not done up to suit him one day and on the advice of an old convict he went to the prison laundry to complain.

"Do you think it could be done any better?" the laundry superintendent asked him.

"I see no reason why it shouldn't," the ex-Mayor retorted. "I'd think anybody could do better work than this."

"Well, then, you're just the man we want. Get to work."

Now Roberts washes prisoner's clothes.
Another convict not so particular about his linen has the clerical job.

MARSHALL PRAYS EVERY NIGHT FOR SAFETY OF PRESIDENT

Vice-President Says He Believes Executive Will Lead People of Earth to Universal Peace.

PEABODY, Kan., Aug. 12.—In a speech here last night, Vice-President Marshall made a strong plea for Americans to heed the advice of President Wilson and remain neutral.

"If we have peace with honor," he said, "we must quit taking sides and stand behind the President. President Wilson has a great load on his shoulders, but don't you make it bigger by taking sides. And I want to say right now, there is one President of the United States who is not envied by the Vice-President and that is President Wilson. There is not a night that I don't pray before I go to bed for the safety and protection of our President."

"I may be a dreamer, but I believe out of it all will come international disarmament. And when this war is over, out of it all will come President Wilson, the greatest man the world has ever known, for he will have led the people of all the earth to universal peace."

GIRL WINS $3 A WEEK JOB AND A $10,000 INHERITANCE

Miss Mary Smith of Chicago to Look After 'Uncle Jimmy' and 'Aunt Louise' Pankhurst of McHenry County, Ill.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Miss Mary Smith, who lives in Kimbark avenue, near Sixty-third street, gets the $10,000 job on "Uncle Jimmy" and "Aunt Louise" Pank-hurst's farm in McHenry County, Ill.
McHenry County. It is stated that there will be no hitch in the plan, as there was yesterday, when it was announced that Miss Louise Grady had been selected for the position coveted by 2000.
After her selection it was found that Miss Grady was not strong enough for the work.

Miss Smith will receive $3 a week, a home with "Uncle Jimmy" and "Aunt Louise," both past 75 years, and $10,000 when "Uncle Jimmy" dies.

"TIBBY" HITS MAN IN EYE

He May Lose Sight From Son's Stroke
While Playing Game.

Clem Housen, 30 years old, a box-maker of 1222 Wash street, may lose the sight of his right eye as the result of being hit by a "Tibby" or "tippy," a pointed piece of wood used by boys in playing a game.

The piece of wood was knocked by Housen's son, Floyd, 12 years old, who was playing the game with his brother, Lester, 16, in front of their home today. Housen had just emerged from the house and was talking to Floyd when the piece of wood struck him. He is at the city hospital.

Auto Throws Stone Through Window
An automobile speeding south on Virstruck a stone at Scholmer street, throwing the stone through the 130 store, at 45 West Scholmer street.

THOUSAND DRIVERS THREATEN STRIKE FOR HIGHER WAGES

Team Owners Refuse to Grant Demands; Say They Mean
$140,000 More in Payroll.

10-HOUR DAY ALSO SOUGHT

Decision of Men's Action to Be Made by International President in Indianapolis.

A strike of more than 1000 teamsters and motor truck drivers, which would tie up the movement of freight in St.
Louis and East St. Louis, is threatened as a result of the refusal by the Team Owners' Association of the men's demands for a new wage scale.

The increase asked for by the men,
as stated to a Post-Dispatch reporter this afternoon by John Duggan, secretary and treasurer of the local branch of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, are:

For drivers of one-horse wagons, $12.50 to $14; two-horse, from $14.30 to $16; two-horse, more than 5000 pounds, from $16 to $18; three-horse, $17.50 to $22; four-horse, $18.40 to $23.

The men also demand a 10-hour day instead of 12 hours, and a Sunday work except between 9 a. m.
and noon.

Means $140,000 Payroll Increase.
The wage increase demanded, the employers hold, would mean an annual increase of $140,000 in their payrolls, and they hold that present conditions do not justify such an expenditure. The value of the freight handled by these teamsters weekly is said to amount to $500,000.

Duggan said the men's demands were decided on at a meeting held July 27.
They were presented to the team owners' organization of which George J. Tansey is the active head. At a meeting Aug.
3, he said, Tansey was present and told the men no concessions would be made, and that the team owners would merely like to know the day when it was intended to begin the strike.

Duggan said the men met two days later and decided to strike, subject to the International Board of the union, which has its headquarters in Indianapolis. D. J. Tobin, national president, and George Ernst for two places on the board, and on his answer, Duggan said, the strike will depend. He did not know when he would be likely to hear from Tobin, he said.

"Not Seeking Any Strike." Duggan said he was merely trying to negotiate a satisfactory agreement with the team owners.

"We understand that the team owners have created a defense fund, anticipating a strike, and that they have advertised in Chicago newspapers for negroes to come here and take the places of the teamsters who are now working on the wagons."

The present wage scale was agreed to by the teamsters and the team owners last year. It was $12.50 for one horse, $14.30 for two horses, and $16 for more than $2000 of freight. A personal search for the cashier has been maintained for nearly six months, but without result.

AMERICAN CONSUL AT MUNICH ATTACKED BY LONDON PAPER

LONDON, Aug. 12.—A prominent position is given by the Morning Post to an attack upon E. St. John Gaffney, U. S. Consul at Munich, for his alleged "unneutral, pro-German and anti-British" attitude.

The Post says he visited London some time ago to make inquiries regarding German prison camps and "while enjoying the hospitality of this country he was so loud in his expression of anti-British opinion that he gave offense to many persons stopping at the same hotel."

The Post charges that in other instances also Gaffney used "his official position as a house-top for the proclamation of his personal pro-Germanism," which "is especially deplorable at a time when the United States is looking after the interests of British subjects."

Boston Pays Naval Honors to 2 Bluejackets Killed in Haiti

BOSTON accorded the naval honors to William Gompers of Brooklyn, N. Y., a nephew of Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, and Carson Whitehurst of Norfolk, Va., both members of the crew of the U. S. S. Washington, who were killed July 29, when some Haitian rebels resisted the landing of the American sailors at Port-au-Prince. The picture shows some sailors firing a volley over the flag-draped coffins on the pier at Charlestown Navy Yard, Boston, Mass.
The hearse was escorted through the city by a naval delegation and the bodies put on the train to be taken to relatives.

DETECTIVES RAID HOME THROUGH QUEER BLUNDER

Enter Thomas Horn's House Thinking Missing Bank Cashier Was There.

A cross-questions-and-silly-answers misunderstanding between a private detective and a housemaid caused much excitement in the 6100 block on McPherson avenue last night, when city detectives, private detectives and an Illinois
Sheriff raided the home of Thomas Horn, a mining engineer, living at No.
6117.

Horn is brother to Henry Horn, missing cashier of the Duquoin (Ill.) bank, which was closed last February, with more than $300,000 of liabilities and less than $2000 of money on hand. A personal search for the cashier has been maintained for nearly six months, but without result.

Last night's events have disclosed that the detective thought that "you mean Mr. Horn's" significant, so he asked if there were any other Mr. Horns there.

In response to his further questions, the maid admitted that Mr. Tommy Horn was then in the house asleep.
Whether he thought Tommy sounded like Henry or reached the deduction that there couldn't be a Mr. Thomas Horn and a Mr. Tommy Horn in the same family is not known, but the detective hastened to the nearest telephone and advised his office the quarry had at last been run to earth.

Sheriff Starts With Warrant.
The agency telephoned to Pinckneyville, Ill., and Sheriff J. C. Charlton started for St. Louis with a warrant on the first train. He and three detectives reached the Horn home at midnight, when all the family was in bed.
One of them leaned against the door bell until a maid answered. Waving his warrant, the Sheriff brushed past her into the house, followed by one of the detectives, while the others kept watch outside, front and rear.

They found only three members of the family, two sons of Thomas Horn, and their grandmother. The boys said they had not heard of their uncle, Henry, for two months, but that his wife was at the house one night a month ago.
The housemaid was sent for.

"Where is this Henry Horn you said was here?" she was asked.

"I didn't say any Henry Horn was here," she replied. "I said Tommy."

"Well, where's Tommy," as you call him?"

The maid pointed to the youngest of the two boys, Thomas Horn Jr. "That's him," she said.

Autoist Who Passed Street CAR ON LEFT SIDE DISCHARGED

Fred W. Gutzmann of 2723 South Broadway, who admitted that he ran his automobile on the left side of the Grand avenue car track, contrary to the traffic laws, in order to get ahead of a street car, was discharged today by Police Judge Hogan, who said the ordinances favored street cars too greatly, and caused automobilists to lose time unnecessarily.

Judge Hogan said he intended to show leniency in cases of this kind, where it is shown that automobilists have been delayed by having to follow street cars. He said the street cars make long stops at corners to load up, and that the machines are not permitted to pass them, and that then the street cars run to the next corner at a speed higher than is permitted to automobiles, and stop there, causing a new delay.

Gutzmann was arrested at Grand avenue and Arsenal street, after he had gone ahead of a street car at Hartford street by running to the left of it as it stood still. He said he had been trying to overtake this street car for eight blocks, and that it was delaying him in keeping a business appointment.

Meanwhile from the river front and even from overhead, came the noise of exploding shrapnel shells and the whir of speeding bullets. Many casualties occurred in the city and ambulances were busy the entire day transporting the wounded to their homes or to hospitals.

Municipal affairs are in the hands of a Citizens' Committee under the control of which a volunteer citizens' police force has been formed to preserve order.
The destruction of the railroad bridge was poorly executed. The middle spans were wrecked and dropped into the river, but the piers were left standing, so that it will take but a comparatively short time to rebuild the structures and reopen railroad communications for Prince Leopold's armies.

RUSSIANS FEAR PETROGRAD IS GERMANS' GOAL

Baltic Flank of Von Hinden-burg's Army Virtually Reaches the Banks of the Dvina, With Czar's Capital 300 Miles Away.

Second Line of Defense to Which Russians Proposed to Go From Warsaw Now Seems Untenable.

Germans Advancing From Vistula Take Lukow, 50 Miles Southeast of Warsaw, and Advance Elsewhere.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Baltic flank of the German armies under Field Marshal von Hindenburg virtually has attained the banks of the River Dvina, between Riga and Dvinsk, with Petrograd less than 300 miles away in a distant line. Thence southward the line sweeps west with the Russian fortress of Kovno still holding out, but next week may see a great battle on the road toward the Russian capital.

The second line of defense upon which the Russians proposed to fall back after abandoning Warsaw, has all the appearance of having been rendered untenable and the British and Russian press is beginning to see in the Austro-German plan an ambitious plunge deeper into Russia, with Petrograd as the goal.

Terrible Fighting at Kovno.
Meantime the Russian rear guards are fighting desperately, especially in the critical Dvina region, and at Kovno, to capture which the Germans are making a terrific sacrifice of men and material.

It seems plain now the German purpose no great demonstration in the West, but intend rather to press to the utmost their so far brilliantly successful Russian campaign on the Asiatic front, under conditions in France and Belgium such that neither the French nor the British immediately will attempt a general offensive.

During the lull in activity on the front in France and Belgium the Austro-German is looking to the Dardanelles to bring the relief Russia so badly needs, so the task of opening the straits remains a difficult problem which some think may be solved only by a change in the Bal-can situation. Both Germany and the entente Powers are exerting the hardest pressure on Bulgaria, as that country is considered to be the key to the situation.

Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton reports from the Dardanelles that the area held by the entente allies in the Anzac zone (territory held by Australians and New Zealanders) on the Gallipoli Peninsula has been nearly trebled. Five out of six guns in Turkish hands have been taken and are reported to have been put out of action by the French battleship St. Louis.

Occupied Ground Trebled.
The official statement given out last night says:

"The latest reports from Sir Ian Hamilton states that severe fighting continued yesterday in the Gallipoli peninsula, mainly in the Anzac zone and in that to the north. The positions occupied were slightly varied in places, but the general result is that the area held at Anzac has been nearly trebled owing chiefly to the gallantry and dash of the Australian and New Zealand army corps."

"Within the north no further progress has been made, the troops have inflicted heavy losses on the enemy and the French battleship St. Louis is reported to have put out of action five of six guns in the Asiatic batteries."

Since Saturday night, when fresh British forces were landed on the Gallipoli Peninsula, there has been almost continuous fighting on the Krithia road. In these operations the Australians and New Zealanders in the Anzac region (a name taken from the initial letters of the words "Australian-New Zealand Army Corps") have co-operated with new forces to the north.

German submarines have renewed their activity and in the last four days have sunk 19 vessels, 13 of which were British trawlers and four of which belonged to neutral countries.

GERMANS CAPTURE LUKOW, 50 MILES BEYOND WARSAW

Prince Leopold's Army Meets
Much Opposition; Another Place Taken by Storm.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 12.—Austro-German forces pursuing the Russians, who are retreating from the Warsaw salient, have occupied Lukow, according to official announcement by army headquarters today. Zambrowa also has been captured, the statement adds. Lukow is situated 40 miles northeast of the fortress of Tvangrad and about 50 miles southeast of Warsaw.
Zambrowa lies about 15 miles southeast of Lomza and 30 miles northeast of Ostrow.

Samogitia (Government of Kovno), the situation is unchanged.

"South of the Niemen troops belonging to the army of Gen. von Eichhorn repulsed with sanguinary losses an attack begun by the enemy with strong forces in the Dvina section. The enemy left 700 prisoners in our hands. The army of Gen. von Scholtz captured the bridgehead at Wladia and Waly and threw the enemy back across the River Gas.

"South of the Niemen since the eighth this army has taken 400 prisoners, including 11 officers, and captured 12 machine guns.

"The army of Gen. von Gallwitz took Zambrows by storm and penetrated far into an easterly direction by way of Andopow.

"Before Novogorodsk there is nothing new. One of our airplanes dropped bombs on the railway station at Bialystok. Extensive explosions were observed.

"The army of Prince Leopold of Bavaria continued pursuit of the enemy, and while continually engaged in rear-guard fighting, crossed the Muchawka section. Lukow has been occupied.

"The army of Gen. von Mackensen, having broken down strongly fortified enemy positions after sharp fighting, the Russians began a retreat during the night along the entire front between the Bug and Paraszew.

"Western theater: In the Arzonne, north of Vienne-le-Chateau, we captured a French group of fortified positions and took 74 wounded prisoners, including two officers.

"During the engagement which led to the capture of an enemy trench north-east of La Harasse, a few prisoners fell into our hands."

AUSTRIAN U BOAT SUNK BY TORPEDO

Italian Submarine Destroys the U12, Large Raider Which Was Built This Year.

ROME, Aug. 12.—It is officially announced that the Austrian submarine U12 has been torpedoed and sunk with all hands, in the upper Adriatic Sea, by an Italian submarine. The Navy Department adds:

"This morning two Austrian torpedo boat destroyers, the U12, Santo Spirito and Melfetta (Southern Italy on the Adriatic). On civilian was killed and seven were wounded. There was no appreciable material damage."

The U12 was of the latest types of submarines in the Austrian navy. She was built in 1913 and had a displacement of 100 tons. She was 105 feet long, 21 feet beam and carried five torpedo tubes. Her maximum speed was 13 knots above and 10 knots below water.

CAPTAIN BLOWS UP GERMAN WARSHIP TO AVOID CAPTURE

Meteor Destroyed After Sinking British Patrol Vessel in North Sea.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 12.—The German version of the exploits of the auxiliary Meteor, which was blown up by her commander to escape capture by British warships, is contained in an official statement issued by the admiralty at Berlin. The statement says:

"The auxiliary vessel Meteor, after having boldly broken through the British watching forces, waged a commercial war."

"Saturday night she encountered the British auxiliary cruiser Ramsey, which the Meteor attacked and destroyed, saving members of the crew and four officers."

"The following day four British cruisers surrounded the Meteor. As battle was hopeless and escape impossible, Commander Behnke sank the Meteor after the crew, British prisoners and the crew of a sailing vessel, which it had sunk as a prize, had been secured. The Meteor's entire crew safely reached a German port."

The report adds that the Meteor was a merchantman outfitted as a mine layer.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The admiralty last night made the following announcement: "H. M. S. Ramsey, Lieut. S. Raby, R. N. R., a small armed patrol vessel, was sunk by the German armed fleet auxiliary vessel Meteor on the 8th of August in the North Sea. Four officers and 30 men were saved. The Meteor subsequently sighted a squadron of British cruisers and her commanding officer, realizing that escape was impossible, ordered the vessel to abandon ship and then blew her up."

The admiral in a casualty list, says five officers were lost in the sinking of the Meteor, and that two were lost in the sinking of the torpedo boat destroyer Lynx when she struck a mine in the North Sea last Monday.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Wide circulation was given this afternoon to a rumor that the Government had received news of military successes closely affecting Russia. This rumor was based on the activity, at rising prices, of Russian securities on the Stock Exchange.

Russian exchange dropped 5 points today to 135.

Turkish Cruiser Reported Torpedoed by Submarine.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Athens says the Turkish cruiser Goeben (renamed Sultan Selim after her purchase from Germany by Turkey) has been torpedoed by an allied submarine near the Bosphorus.

The dispatch adds that the crew succeeded in running the cruiser aground in a narrow creek, where workmen are now building a dyke all around her to enable repairs to be made.

The Daily News Athens correspondent says the Turkish cruiser torpedoed was the former German Breslau (renamed by the Turks Midilli).

"At the same time," the Daily News correspondent adds, "the submarine, which succeeded in entering the Black Sea, also torpedoed one gunboat."

One of the business problems of today is how to secure better help. It is important that the employer SELECT high-grade workers. It can be done through Post-Dispatch Wants.

ASTRONOMY AND HIGHER MATHEMATICS USED TO TRAIN GUNS ON GALLIPOLI

Officer in Conning Tower Can Get Range to Fraction of a Second—Peninsula, Deserted, Devastated by Shells.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

GALLIPOLI PENINSULA, July 10.—There are few houses on the Gallipoli Peninsula that have not been wrecked by the severe bombardment incident to the landing of the allied troops last April and there are no houses that are now inhabited.

There are wheat fields waiting for the reaper and vineyards and olive groves where work might be done. In the villages, the few remaining shops stand idle. From the harbors along the Dardanelles and Gulf of Saros the boats have vanished, and the nets of the fishermen have dried in the hot sun a long time.

Out on the fields the crude plows and harrows lack oxen. The windmills are ruins or have had their canvas sails stripped by shot and shell.

Town, village and countryside have been deserted by their populations. The peninsula has disappeared and instead everywhere the dull olive drab and hardly brighter khaki uniform of the Turkish soldier.

This is the Gallipoli Peninsula today.

Shells by Tens of Thousands.

The British and French ships have thrown tens of thousands of heavy shells on the narrow strip of land, Malgoe and Noulain have been razed. Kirithia is a heap of ruins and Gallipoli stands as a monument to what modern artillery may do. To any of these must be added every other town, village and hamlet on the peninsula, and they are by no means few in number.

The expenditure of artillery and aeroplane ammunition of the British and French has been enormous, and wasteful. This morning a British cruiser threw into the town of Gallipoli, exactly 10 shells—a sort of salute to Caesar Mars, because there is nothing in Gallipoli to call for such an extravagance with the taxpayers' money. At another point, nearby, 38 shells were hurled. Both bombardments resulted in a bag of one shepherd wounded.

But the bombardment was a fine exhibition. For the greater part of an hour it kept the echoes of the Gallipoli hills busy. Then the cruiser steamed to other ports—to one of the islands in the Aegean, where its crew may be enjoying a good rest at this moment.

Not a square foot of ground on the peninsula is safe against the British ship artillery fire, though disputes help the British gunners start early—about 5:15 o'clock in the morning. Why, nobody knows. Light conditions for them would be best late in the afternoon, when the sun illuminates the hills of the peninsula from the southwest, when, in other words, it is behind, instead of before, the gunner. But modern gunnery is not hampered much by such trifles as light conditions, especially when indirect fire, or "map" bombardments make the eyes of the cannoner almost a superfluous thing.

Higher Mathematics Used.

In the conning tower of the bombardment vessel stands an officer with a map and a few other accessories, and puts the higher mathematics, astronomy and the reports of aeroplane scouts and observers to good use. Astronomy and artillery may seem unrelated, but at a pinch the artillery officer of the bombardment ship can make splendid use of it. If the land marks on the coast do not suit his purposes well enough, he can establish to a fraction of a geographical second just where he is, measure distance between gun and target on his map, shoot certain numbers to his crews in the turret and bang!

The proceeding is simple enough and the landscape of the peninsula, were it a sentient being, would know it. The peninsula gives the impression of a pest of very large and exceedingly accurate moles having visited it together with a violent earthquake. Seen from an elevation, located anywhere, the hills, slopes and narrow valleys appear to have broken out in a sort of bad rash.

Daily the rash increases. A few days ago the Associated Press correspondent was waked at 5:15 a. m. by having a shell explode inconveniently close through the canvas wall of the tent in which he slept, or had slept until before the British shells came.

There are many nightingales on the peninsula—when the sun has set they begin their songs, generally cut short by a renewal of the fighting.

Every night there is fighting with machine guns, rifle, bayonet, knife, hand grenades and life destroying chemicals. Now and then somebody springs a mine besides. The noise of this sort of battle is not particularly great even at short distances from the two arenas. It moves over the ancient hills softly and spasmodically. The dull and equidistant rum of the machine guns are followed by the sharp and regular cracks of the rifles, while exploding hand grenades punctuate as it were, the sentences of the paragraph of history that is being written.

Thus passes the night and at cock's crow peace comes and lingers until the man in the conning tower can read his map and establish angles and degrees for his large caliber.

MAN GETS RESPIRE 30 MINUTES BEFORE HE IS TO BE HANGED

Writ of Habeas Corpus Stops Execution of Texas Who Killed Railroad Official.

PORT WORTH, TEX., Aug. 12.—Thirty minutes before C. A. Myers was to be hanged here today the clerk of the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin telephoned to the Sheriff to delay the execution until further notice. A writ of habeas corpus had been filed before the Court, questioning Myers' sanity.

Myers, a switchman, shot and killed A. W. Montague, superintendent of terminals for the Texas & Pacific Railroad here, Jan. 20 last. The superintendent had charged Myers, who claimed he was unable to get work with any other railroad because of Montague's influence. On account of Myers' claim several persons active in the Socialist party have taken interest in his case.

A feature of Myers' imprisonment has been his apparent lack of concern over his fate. He has a wife and several children in Little Rock, Ark. Montague's predecessor as superintendent was shot and killed by a dissatisfied employe a few years ago.

French, English and Russians Guard Frontiers of Serbia.

BELGRADE, Aug. 12.—The general frontier of Serbia is now guarded by French aviators, the river boundary is protected by an English naval contingent, and there are two Russian batteries of artillery entrenched behind Belgrade.

Roses Tossed Before Germans Entering Warsaw

commanded by German officers, who, notwithstanding all the experience of the war, have not lost their sense of justice and chivalry. Everywhere one turns one sees bright faces and roses are thrown by black-eyed beauties. A fine rain does not keep the beauties of Warsaw indoors, although they have on diaphanous blouses with "skylights." They have come out to watch this historic event.

The cafes are crowded with brightly dressed people. Almost all the shops are open. Picture post cards with views of the city are finding a lively sale.

"Suddenly we come to the plain, completely empty of people. The only noise here is the rattling of bullets and the explosion from the other side of the river. Flight is still going on. On this side are the Germans, on the other the Russians. On the other side are the trenches and the street barricades and the houses and firing across the river."

"The Russians return a lively fire. Machine guns rattle from both sides. Now and then comes a bigger greeting from the big guns."

Here is all the activity of the town and scarcely 100 yards away the struggle for life and death.

Scene Is Extraordinary.

"It is an extraordinary scene. There in front of us the Russian positions, on the opposite bank, are clearly visible to the naked eye. Guns roar and shells crash into the walls. We turn around and have in front of us the life of the big city. At yonder corner is a big cafe. Men and women are sipping their coffee as if it were in peace time, many of them reading newspapers and a few houses away death is working its prey."

"On the balcony a woman in fashionable dress, with a look in a heavily jeweled hand. Now and then she casts a glance at the fighting on the other side of the Vistula. We can scarcely tear ourselves away from the spot."

"Thin smoke rises on the other side of the river, where the Russians are continuing the work of destruction. Public buildings are empty, all furniture, even to the cupboards, have gone. Empty walls and empty rooms are everywhere."

"Means of communications have been carried away. Telephone and telegraph apparatus of all kinds is gone. Everywhere, even in the private houses, there is a gaping emptiness. The Russians felt that they would have to give up this fortress, perhaps, forever."

"Evening comes, lights appear, and the various occupations of the city are continued as usual. We leave the town with difficulty, forcing our way through columns of men and road trains. Still long streams of refugees continue to flow away from Warsaw. We still hear the rattle of machine guns and now and then the fire of a big field gun. The air becomes clearer, no longer the smell of burning is perceived. We breathe again and repeat to ourselves, 'Warsaw, the impregnable, has fallen.'"

Former Premier Venizelos of Greece Returns to Athens.

ATHENS, Aug. 12.—Eleutherios Venizelos, former Premier of Greece, who resigned in March on account of King Constantine's disapproval of his policy in favor of the Entente allies, returned to Athens today. The pronouncement of his policy is awaited with greatest eagerness, but this may not be made until after the King's speech has been delivered at the opening of Parliament, Aug. 18.

German Communication With Turkey Imperative, Says Venizelos.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 12.—Discussing the Balkan situation in the Tageszeitung of Berlin, Count Reventlow declared that Germany must cut her way through to Constantinople and make the new triple alliance a reality.

"The demand for direct communication between Hungary and Turkey," he writes, "has found expression more and more energetically in the last few months. Among the securities which the triple alliance needs, and must obtain, is permanent security of the political, economic and military link between Constantinople and Berlin and Vienna. The alliance can develop full strength and highest effect only when the allied powers possess assured communication in future times of peace no less than now the new triple alliance will constitute a great strategic feature and the rapid, thorough building up of this factor is our most immediate task."

300,000 Germans Said to Be Massed for March Against Serbia.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The correspondent of the Morning Post in Rome says: "Telegrams from Switzerland and Salonika state that the Germans have massed in Bosnia and Herzegovina 300,000 men, which shortly will march against Serbia, hoping to crush the Serbians and open a way across Greece to Salonika, thus succoring the Ottoman empire. This projected move of Germany creates no astonishment here. It has been forecast by Italian military critics for some weeks."

Villa's Foreign Minister Confident of America's Good Intentions.

CHILAPALA, Mexico, Aug. 12.—"I do not believe the sending of American warships to Vera Cruz should be considered as indicating an intention of the United States Government to intervene in Mexico," said Diaz Lombardo, Foreign Minister in the Villa Cabinet, last night, when he read a dispatch telling of the departure of the battleships New Hampshire and Louisiana from Newport.

"If conferences for peace between the Mexican factions should be realized not only Gen. Villa, but all military and civil elements connected with the Conventionist party would be willing to eliminate themselves, if this be necessary, with his only condition that the men who would take charge of the new situation would themselves be pledged solemnly to restore constitutional order and not to join in any way with the corrupt Cientifico party or the reactionary element, which should never again be allowed to participate in political affairs in any way."

Press Says Little Ally's Failure to Make Concession to Bulgaria Is Mistake.

ITS COURAGE ADMIRER

Closing of Discussion Between Nish and Sofia Would Be "Unfortunate in Extreme."

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Balkan situation is featured by the morning papers both in their news columns and editorially. Serbia's unwillingness to cede territory claimed by Bulgaria, which will be necessary to insure active co-operation by Bulgaria on the side of the allies, has had a discouraging effect.

"These little states," says the Graphic, "are much more concerned with their own quarrels than with the gigantic struggle between the Teutonic Powers and the allies. They are so intent on quarreling that they refuse to take joint action against a common peril."

After expressing profound admiration for the courage of the Serbians, the Express says:

"They will be ill-advised if they allow any exaggerated care for their self-esteem to hinder a settlement with Bulgaria which must materially hasten the end of the war. The fall of Constantinople means the breaking up of the Austro-Hungarian empire."

The Mail expresses the hope that the meeting of the Servian Parliament Monday will show that the present answer is not final, but says that, in view of the local enmities and dissensions in the Balkans, it would be over-anguine to expect any immediate development.

"Both political and strategic considerations," says the Daily News, "make Bulgaria the deciding factor in the Balkan situation and the closing of the discussion between Nish and Sofia would be unfortunate in the extreme."

Rome Thinks Serbia Will Demand Fixed Sum for Cessions.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—A dispatch to the Journal des Debats from Rome, says: "The general opinion here is that Serbia will answer the demand for cessions of the Quadruple Entente Powers by offering to cede territory for a fixed sum, in order to avoid responsibility for the failure of the negotiations with the Balkan States regarding their participation in the war. It is difficult to forecast the decision of Bulgaria, for Greece apparently is refusing to make any concessions to Bulgaria."

German Submarine Holds Up Norwegian Ship Carrying Mail

BERGEN, Norway, Aug. 12.—The Norwegian mail steamer Iris, when an hour out from this port, was held up by a German submarine and boarded by an officer and seamen from the underwater craft.

According to passengers on the Iris, the parcel post matter destined for Russia which the steamer carried was jettisoned. The mail for Scandinavian points was not disturbed.

foreign demonstrations have been reported. Commander McNamara of the gunboat Sacramento may have sailed with his ship last night for New Orleans, carrying the Brazilian and Guatemalan Ministers to Mexico. In that case Commander William P. Scott of the gunboat Marietta will make the report.

The party on board the Sacramento, which will reach New Orleans Sunday, includes eight persons traveling with Minister Cardoso of Brazil and the wife and daughter of the Guatemalan diplomat, Dr. Ortega, who was ordered out of Mexico by Gen. Carranza.

The battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire, en route to Southern waters, probably will stop at Guantanamo for orders, it was said today, meeting there the battleship Connecticut from Haiti for Southern duty.

No More Ships to Go South.

"There have been no special orders to the Atlantic fleet except those given to the Louisiana, New Hampshire and Connecticut," Secretary Daniels said today. "Ships now in navy yards have regular orders to be prepared for sailing, but they have been given no new orders. We do not contemplate sending any more ships South at this time."

The Atlantic fleet, in accordance with routine plans, will go to the Southern drill grounds for target practice about Aug. 29. Admiral Fletcher was directed today, however, to have a portion of the fleet in Boston Harbor, Aug. 24, at the request of Gov. Wood of Massachusetts, who asked that a warship be placed at the disposal of the council of State Governors there, Aug. 24-27.

Argentine Message to Carranza.

The text of a dispatch sent to Gen. Carranza by Senor Murature, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Argentina, in response to a protest to the President of Argentina by Carranza against foreign interference in Mexican affairs, follows:

"The President of the republic has received the telegram addressed to him on account of the conference held in Washington between the Secretary of State and the representatives of various American countries calling the attention of the Argentine Government to the dangers which may result from a policy of interference in the internal affairs of that country."

"I am directed by the President to reply to you that the Argentine Government in having a representative at that conference has done so not only in accordance with its traditional policy of respect to other sovereignties but also to reaffirm it in the case of a problem which by affecting the destinies of Mexico will equally affect the great American family."

"The above mentioned conference has been based from its inception on the understanding that any act or design which might mean an interference in the internal affairs of Mexico should be eliminated beforehand and, above all, the proposal of armed intervention. Once the opinion of all were united within this fundamental idea, the Washington conference obeys a lofty inspiration of Pan-American solidarity, and instead of finding any cause for alarm, the Mexican people should see in it a proof of the friendly consideration that her fate evokes in us and our sincere wishes for her pacification and development."

The collier Jupiter was ordered to Vera Cruz today from Newport, R. I., and the cruiser Denver, on the way from the Pacific, was ordered into reserve at Mare Island. The Albatross, now in reserve, will take the Denver's place in the Pacific fleet.

The gunboats Annapolis and Yorktown reached Acapulco, Mexico, today, and the cruisers Chactanooga and Cleveland also patrolling the west coast, arrived at San Blas and Mulaga, respectively.

Regarding the expulsion of Juan Ortega, the Guatemalan Minister to Mexico, the dispatch says: "The Constitutional Government has never recognized any diplomats accredited to former governments. Ortega was expelled under article 23 as a pernicious foreigner. It is specifically charged that he, as an individual, took sides with Carranza and also that President Carranza of Guatemala encouraged revolts in Mexico on his border."

Discussing the departure of the Brazilian Minister, the dispatch merely says: "He previously had announced his intention of returning to Rio de Janeiro because of ill-health."

made a speech the other day in which the peace conference participated in by the United States and Latin-American countries was sharply criticized. This speech was denounced by higher officials and was made without sanction of the Carranza Government, the dispatch says.

"We do not wish to hamper the trade of the great English-speaking nation across the Atlantic. There are difficulties, but difficulties were created to be faced."

"Had cotton been stopped at the beginning of the war," he said, "we might reasonably expect to see the war wearing an end."

"Cotton is still entering Germany," he added. "She might just as well be allowed to import shells. Neutral powers should be informed that we intend to maintain our maritime rights as a belligerent. We will not allow the mastery of the sea unless we profit by its advantages."

GEN. WOOD CALLS VOLUNTEER ARMY PLAN A FAILURE

Makes "Fighting Talk" to Business Men in Training Camp at Plattsburg, N. Y.

FORCE OF 200,000 NEEDED

"Neutrality Out of Question," Says Robert Bacon, Once Ambassador to France.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Major-General Leonard Wood of the United States army told the 1100 business men gathered in the military training camp near here, yesterday, that the volunteer system in this country was a failure; that the country needed a standing army of 200,000 men; that the country could not depend upon "unknown people" for its defense and that it was for the business men such as were assembled here to see that the proper legislation was passed to overcome the unpreparedness that the General evidently had in mind.

It was "fighting talk" that Gen. Wood gave the men in camp. He seemed thoroughly in earnest and there was nothing of the jingo in his manner. It was straight from the shoulder, unpurged war talk, with a little slap at William J. Bryan and the other pacifists and a bitter denunciation of those who seemed to think that armies were brought into being over night.

The men who are gathered here to take a month's training in soldiering are business men and they are learning their new business rapidly. Yesterday, at least, the camp in a peace camp and it has been stated time and again that its organization was not in any way due to our present international relations. However that may be, it is true that Gen. Wood, Capt. Hiram Dorey and Private Robert Bacon, once United States Ambassador to France, and former Assistant Secretary of State, all sounded today a decidedly pessimistic note with war as their topic and the belief in the future of the United States as their theme.

Gen. Wood addressed the "students" after mess. The men, nearly the whole 1100 of them, were gathered on what ought to be called the parade grounds, but isn't. They sat around in a great circle and listened. Applauding now and then and laughing occasionally, they took what the General had to say very seriously.

"Perfectly Asinine Statement." "I want to say a word to you regarding our method of raising an army and the failures of it," said Gen. Wood. "The perfectly asinine statement has been made that we can raise a million men between sunset and sunrise. This assembly of you men here at this camp is an answer to that sort of foolish talk."

When it was seen by the business men in what direction the General's remarks were taking, the "recruits" pricked up their ears. "There are many amiable old ladies," continued the General, "who think that you have responded to the call of the wild and that that is all that this assembly means. Personally, I hope that it means the beginning of the response of as many males as we have left."

"The system of volunteers has always been a failure. Gen. Washington warned us, earnestly, even in his day, against depending upon volunteers for our national defense. It might have been well enough in his day to depend to a very large extent upon volunteers, for the ocean then meant isolation for us. But now, when the ocean is only five days wide, it is instead of a means of isolation a ready means of access."

"The nations of whose actions we are apprehensive are prepared. The nations who are coming to us are ready. We can take care of the little ones in our own good time, although we may be a bit slow in getting to them (laughter), but, returning to the question of armament, I would point out to you that we never got a full quota of volunteers in the Spanish-American war; both the Confederates and the United States Government were forced to resort to the draft system in 1862 and today we cannot depend for our defense upon the good will of the unknown people who are coming to us from everywhere."

What Jefferson Said. "As Thomas Jefferson recommended in a letter which he wrote to Monroe, we must train and organize all of our man citizens and make military instruction compulsory in our colleges. Until we do that we will not be safe. That statement, gentlemen, is as true today as it was when Jefferson made it. We must have a system of trained citizen soldiery similar to that of Switzerland and Australia."

"To have an adequate army for our defense we should have 40,000 officers, so you see that in training you we have made only a very small beginning. We ought to have an army of 40,000 men for what we call foreign garrisons and from 150,000 to 170,000 as a standing army to police the country itself."

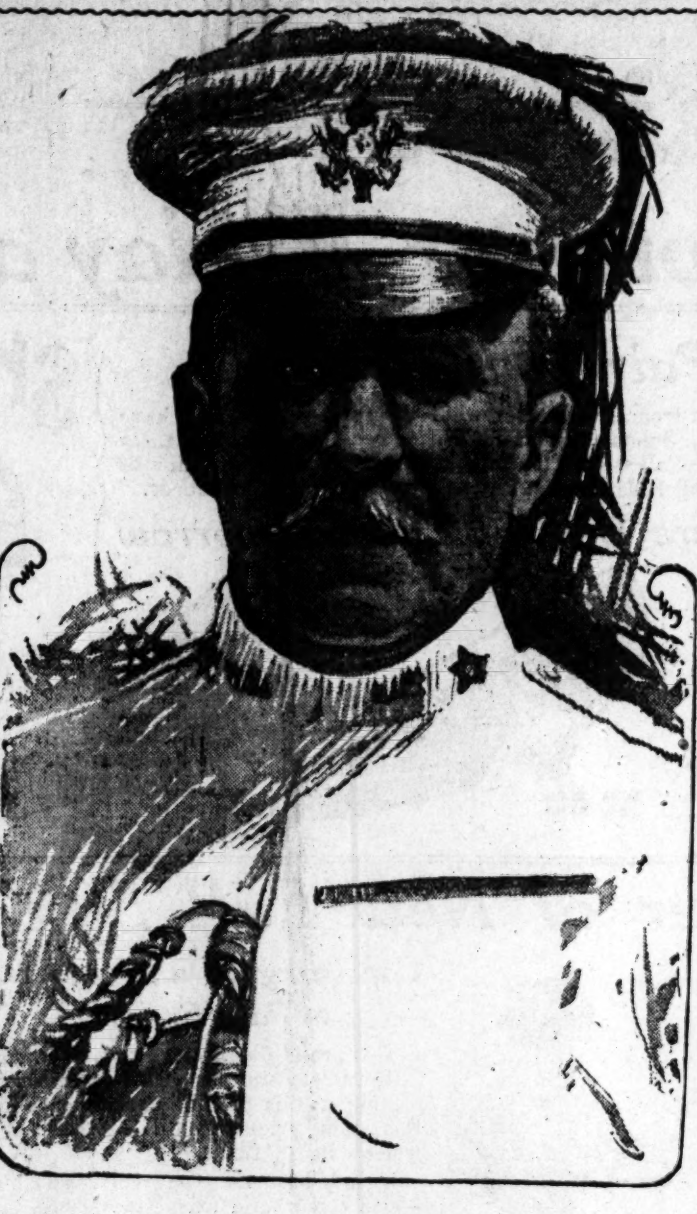

"We want a big navy and an efficient navy. Perhaps we don't need the biggest navy in the world, but at least we ought to have the second biggest. We want two, a mobile army, for without a mobile army our coast defenses, on which so much depends, might well be rendered useless."

New National Guard System Needed. "With all due respect to the National Guard of the country for the good work that it has done, we need a new system. We need in my opinion, much more effective Federal control of the National Guard than we have had in the past. If that branch of the service is to be made as effective as it should be."

The General's remarks made a profound impression on the recruits, and it seemed to be agreed generally that it was the most outspoken utterance on the army needs of the country that has been made by a regular army officer for many years.

Former Ambassador Bacon, once a member of the Morgan firm of bankers, and who has two sons in the camp here with him, discussed the American situation in an interview.

"I am here," he said, "as a recruit in this camp, as a protest against our unpreparedness. I sincerely hope that this idea, as exemplified by this camp, will make a striking impression all through the country. I fear that the full significance of the situation has not struck us yet, or we would at least have heard of some legislation aimed to rectify the condition."

Lord Roberts' Prophecy. "Field Marshal Lord Roberts of England, much more than a year ago, warned his country of its unpreparedness. He stated, in almost so many words, that the day would come when England would realize that it was not ready for the war it would eventually have to participate in. The day he said that the day he had spoken of had come, and his prophecy had been fulfilled. What Lord Roberts said of England is true today of America."

"My idea is that we in this country do not want to look for trouble. At the same time I think we should take a little more of the attitude of the old world. In the present conflict we should take some position, for neutrality is out of the question; it is impossible."

"We cannot accept the assurances of nations whose own people tell us that they will not be bound by any treaties if emergencies of war arise which, to their minds, necessitate the violation of those treaties."

Missouri Gets $5000 Less From Government for National Guard. WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—This year's Federal appropriation to aid the organized military, $4,000,000, has just been apportioned by Secretary Garrison. Half of the amount is for active field service and rifle practice and is divided among the states according to congressional representation. Of the $2,000,000 for supplies and ammunition, $400,000 is reserved for special allotment in emergency cases and the remainder goes to the states for the basis of efficiency plans adopted by the War Department.

Secretary Garrison took into consideration the actual strength at the annual inspection and the number of auxiliary branches, such as field hospitals, ambulance companies, field artillery, cavalry signal corps and engineer corps. Every man in a field hospital and ambulance company was counted twice and every man in the other branches of the auxiliary services three times in order that these arms should receive adequate funds.

The result of the new plan is that several states receive for supplies and ammunition more than they did last year. Illinois gets $5000 more. Most of the states lose. Texas is the greatest loser, drawing $14,000 less than last year. Arkansas will get $5000 less and Missouri $5000 less. Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska lose $4000 each. Oklahoma loses $2000.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE DEAF

If you are losing your hearing—if you are troubled with buzzing and ringing in the ears—if you find that your nostrils are clogged—if you have given up hopes of finding relief, just go to Johnson-Enderle-Paulley Drug Co., 6 stores; Judge & Dolph Drug Co., 3 stores, or any other drug store, and purchase one course of Fluid Enserol. Mix this with one pint of warm water. Put two drops in the affected ear every night. Put one tablespoonful in a fourth of a glass of warm water and gargle throat and snuff up nose night and morning. Keep this up for a few weeks and test your hearing and you will be pleased to note the improvement. You will also, no doubt, discover that your catarrh has disappeared and head noises gone.—ADV.

GEN. DARTIGUENAVE CHOSEN PRESIDENT BY HAITI ASSEMBLY

Extra U. S. Forces Landed at Port au Prince With Field Pieces and Machine Guns.

By Associated Press. PORT AU PRINCE, Aug. 12.—Gen. Dartiguenave was today elected President of the Haitian republic by the National Assembly. Calm prevails.

In preparation for possible disorders further American forces were landed today from the warships in the harbor. The men brought with them field pieces and machine guns and together with the forces already on shore began patrolling the streets of the city.

In several sections of the city barricades formed with sacks of sand were erected to serve as breastworks in case of street fighting.

Strengthening of Border Force Would Take All the Regular Troops.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—War Department officials today awaited word from Major-General Funston as to whether he needed additional troops along the border to deal with the Mexican raiders. Further strengthening of the border forces would take virtually all available regular troops in the country. The regular troops in the country are said to be 12,000 men available for that purpose. Gen. Funston has ready on the border and at Texas City about 17,000 troops.

The American troop killed near Mercedes, Tex., last Tuesday night, in a battle with raiders, was Private Leo C. Windhaus, Troop C, Twelfth Cavalry, according to a report today from Gen. Funston. Windhaus' home was in Evanston, Ind.

It was in the Mexican skirmish that a flag was captured bearing the words "Army of Liberty of Mexico and Texas." A hand bill was also found reading: "Mexicans, today we will accomplish our sacred debt. The revolution has acquired in a few days gigantic proportions. We unite our brothers to expedite these fortunes of war. In the solemn moment we will vindicate our rights and justice for all time. May the light shine upon us in all our undertakings and may it crown our forces in all manners. Contemplate this movement initiated in Texas which is of such consequence as to bring about the peace and justice we long for."

Jews in Germany Appeal to U. S. Against Munition Sale

"Thou Givest Iron for Gold, Death for Life," Says Communication Drafted by Rabbi.

BERLIN, by wireless to Savilla, Aug. 12.—The following was given out for publication today by the Overseas News Agency:

"The Association of Jews in Germany has issued a dramatic appeal to America, drafted by Dr. Levi, a rabbi, for distribution in neutral countries. The appeal, based on the fact that American shells are thrown by Russians into Polish towns believed to harbor Germans, says:

"Europe stands in flames. Across the ocean America alone lives at peace. She hears not the thunder of cannon. A fruitful rain of gold is falling on a land enjoying golden peace.

"We cry out to America: Thousands of thy most loyal and industrious citizens come from towns being destroyed by the shells which thou art sending. Instead of gifts of money once sent back to childhood homes from Libau and Lemberg. Thou sendest iron shells to supply the army of the Czar. Thou givest iron for gold, death for life. The children are murdering their parents. America, thou hast peace. Thou art not fighting for existence. We implore thee to listen to this appeal!"

Constable Who Killed Man, Stain.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 12.—Eugene Morris, a constable at Universal, a mining town, was shot in the back by an unidentified man while in an automobile and died in a hospital. A few years ago he killed a man, but was exonerated.

MEXICAN RAIDERS SAID TO BE SEEKING TEXAS TERRITORY

Declared to Be Operating Under the "Plan of San Diego."

By Associated Press. BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 12.—Action by the Federal Government in response to the appeal to President Wilson made by Gov. Ferguson of Texas, who asked for an increase of troops in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, was awaited today by officials who so far have not been successful in preventing the depredations of Mexican ranch raiders, who have caused the deaths of nearly a score of persons in this section. Mr. Ferguson, in his appeal, declared the situation was perilous, and was doubtful of the ability of the State forces and local officers to maintain control.

Citizens of Brownsville and other border cities do not agree with Gen. Funston that the trouble was due to political feuds in this section and protests against his statements continue to reach here.

"Plan of San Diego." Considerable evidence is brought forward that the raiders are organized into several bands, working under the plan of San Diego, a movement started a year ago at San Diego, Tex., where resolutions were passed declaring for the wresting from the United States of a strip of territory along the border to be added to Mexico.

While the situation was expected to be partly relieved by the arrival in this section of the Third Battalion, Ninth Infantry, sent from Laredo yesterday, expressions of officials generally were that it would require more soldiers to suppress the movement. The zone of operations of the raiders was widened to a large extent in the last 24 hours, although few reports of depredations have reached here.

In Clash North of Brownsville. The latest meeting of the raiders with troops was reported from Katherine, Wallacy County, 80 miles north of Brownsville, where a band of 30 or more Mexican raiders, working under the plan of San Diego, a movement started a year ago at San Diego, Tex., where resolutions were passed declaring for the wresting from the United States of a strip of territory along the border to be added to Mexico.

Three more Mexican outlaws were today added to the list of killed in skirmishes near Mercedes, Hidalgo County. It was not reported whether soldiers, county officers or rangers were in the fight. Officers have adopted a policy of refusing to give details of fighting in which they are concerned. This is said to account for the lack of confirmation of a report that eight other Mexican raiders were killed in Hidalgo County since Friday.

E. P. Naffarette, Carranza commander at Brownsville, today said that the raiders would take virtually all available regular troops in the country. The regular troops in the country are said to be 12,000 men available for that purpose. Gen. Funston has ready on the border and at Texas City about 17,000 troops.

The American troop killed near Mercedes, Tex., last Tuesday night, in a battle with raiders, was Private Leo C. Windhaus, Troop C, Twelfth Cavalry, according to a report today from Gen. Funston. Windhaus' home was in Evanston, Ind.

Thin Men and Women

Do You Want to Get Fat and be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist upon eating their food, or stuffing it. They eat cream, butter, lard, oil, sugar, or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract properly assimilates the food you eat.

There is a medicine known to reliable druggists almost everywhere, which is needed by the digestive organs to help them to perform their duty. It is called Sargol. This preparation is called Sargol and much remarkable testimony is given as to its successful use in flesh building. Sargol, which comes in the form of a small non-injurious tablet, taken at meals and mixing with the digesting food, tends to produce fat, and muscle building elements so that the blood is rich and the body is transformed into a healthy, well-proportioned figure. This additional and previously lacking element, which is called Sargol, with your checks filling out, follows along your neck, shoulders and bust, disappearing as you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid healthy flesh. Sargol is harmless, and is a scientific fact. Judge & Dolph Drug Co., 4 stores; Johnson-Enderle-Paulley Drug Co., 6 stores; or any other drug store.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported cases should be taken about using unless a doctor's weight is desired.—ADV.

Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering the digestive process. The lining of the stomach and leading to probable nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinarily, the stomach lining is protected by a thin layer of mucus, which is useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of burdock. Burdock, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acid is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little burdock magnesia, which can be obtained in any drug store, and should always be kept handy. Burdock magnesia, No. 25 E. 28th St. N. Y. C.—ADV.

RUSSIA SAID TO HAVE HAD OFFER OF DARDANELLES

Petrograd Newspaper Tells of Peace Terms Suggested by Germany.

By Associated Press. PETROGRAD, Aug. 12.—The Novo Vremya, confirming reports that peace overtures were made to Russia by Germany, says Germany offered Russia Gallia and the Dardanelles with a guarantee to the integrity of all Russian frontiers, stipulating that Russia should not oppose the cession of Egypt to Turkey nor interfere with Germany's free hand in making peace with Russia's allies.

The Novo Vremya, discussing the theory that Petrograd is the real objective of the German offensive, says: "There is an enormous difference between the war of 1812 and the present conflict. The Germans are hurrying against Russia, equivalent to seven such invasions as that of Napoleon and supported by the latest technical appliances, whereas in 1812 the Russian army in the latter respect was fully on a par with the French."

"The Germans are infinitely better posted as to the position of Russia than Napoleon, and they are incapable of regarding Moscow as the key to the empire. They know that Petrograd is the political center and it is only half as far from Riga as Moscow. It is only a night's railway journey between Riga and Petrograd, and the distance of 250 miles over good roads and two lines of railway does not offer insuperable difficulties. This is no second war of 1812, but something far more serious."

The Reich advises the population of Petrograd that air raids on the capital are likely in the near future and that a hostile cavalry force may possibly get near the capital. It says, however, that there is no fear of anything further at present.

German Interests Said to Want to Retain Control Over Belgium.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—The purpose to be the text of a confidential memorandum sent to the Imperial German Chancellor—Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg—on May 20 by representatives of German manufacturing and agricultural associations, is published in the Temps. The memorandum, according to the newspaper, covers financial, territorial, industrial and military concessions to be demanded of the entente allies as Germany's terms for peace and to insure the development of a greater Germany. It is signed by the following men, who are prominent in the life of the German empire: Dr. Roedelius of the Agrarian League, Vaehorst von Wente of the German Peasant League, Baron von Twickel of the Association of Westphalian Peasants, Herr Rouger of the Central German Manufacturers' League, Herr Friebe of the Association of German Manufacturers and Eberle of the Union of the Middle Classes of the Empire.

The memorandum, after calling for peace terms which would insure the development of Germany and "guarantee an amelioration of the bases of the German empire," says: "A peace which has not these results will render new struggles inevitable at an early date, but with the chances much less favorable for Germany."

It is not for the mere satisfaction of having a great sum raised, even for so appealing a cause as that of saving the lives of needy babies, that the Post-Dispatch has urged, and continues to urge, activity in the campaign. It is because the Post-Dispatch, through the opening of the machinery through which the pure milk and free ice reach the babies, that the needs are widespread, and, in many instances, vitally urgent. Close touch with the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission and the Free Ice and Diet Circle of King's Daughters is maintained, and from many quarters appeals come direct from mothers and others especially concerned over the welfare of little ones who are unfortunates as to the course to pursue to obtain the essential articles. There is a great deal yet to be accomplished in the way of building the Fund to provide with fullness for the requirements certain to exist until well along in October. Within a few weeks the opening of the schools will severely handicap the young people in that undertaking. To this end the grown people of the community are invited to constitute themselves a Reserve Corps, to take to themselves the privilege of being a part of the force striving to save to parents and the nation the young lives which are going through a critical period. And the women and men are responding as the Post-Dispatch felt assured they would.

At the Jewish Educational Alliance, 601 Carr street, the Merymanning Girls' Club, this evening, will produce a play, along with a varied line of entertainment. They have been applying themselves with diligence and understanding to the organization of use benefit, and have been given cordial encouragement by older people. Eleven girls constitute the club.

A resident of Kirkwood, withholding his or her name, responded promptly to the invitation to unite with the children in the campaign as a member of the Reserve Corps, contributing $1 and promising the undertaking a "very deserving cause." James Goldman of 1104 Olive street, joined the corps through a donation of $5, as did Mrs. C. F. Steiner of 2124 Russell avenue, who contributed $2.

Another benefit affair this evening is to take place at the corner of Grand avenue and Pestalozzi street. This is a carnival of the larger type, organized by five young girls who are thus making their entry into the work of affording relief to the babies, with all the enthusiasm and determination of veterans.

Children to Give Show. Tomorrow evening, at 138 Blackstone avenue, several girls and boys will give a show of an especially attractive nature, including two adaptations of well-known and popular plays, "Cinderella" and "Bluebird." An enjoyable time is assured.

Adelaide and Lourene Freise and Cecile Hanley of 4225 Page boulevard, were inspired with desire to contribute to the cause of the babies and surrendered the pennies which they had been saving to the amount of $2.

The production of "School Days," in conjunction with singing and jokes, at 5342 Cote Brillante avenue, Wednesday, was the means of bringing $1.06 for the benefit of the babies. Those who participated in the entertainment were: Leo Seymour, 5318A Cote Brillante, Helen Traylor, 1412 Shawmut place, realized $1.06 for the fund. Those who were in the production are: Helen and John Traylor, 1412 Shawmut place; Jack Corliss, 1412 Shawmut, and Francis Connelly, 1412 Shawmut.

LAST YEAR'S FUND FOR BABIES CAN BE PASSED BY SEPT. 1

It Means Hard Work by Regular Army and Reserve Corps of Pure Milk League.

One year ago today the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund totaled $103,638. Today it is $239,180. The difference against this season is $171,739. Ten days ago the difference was about $1200. There has been splendid progress during this period, the recovery amounting to between $400 and $500. Continuing that same measure of advance, the current season will, by Sept. 1, show at least as large a sum devoted to the cause of the teeming district babies as did last, with perhaps something to the advantage of this one. That would be an achievement by the boys and girls of the main relief army, reinforced by the Reserve Corps of parents and other matured people, to contemplate with pride and satisfaction.

It is not for the mere satisfaction of having a great sum raised, even for so appealing a cause as that of saving the lives of needy babies, that the Post-Dispatch has urged, and continues to urge, activity in the campaign. BELLEVILLE LUMBER DEALER ENDS LIFE IN HIS HOME

Wife Finds Body of Julius J. Kohl Jr., on Return From Shopping Trip to St. Louis.

Julius J. Kohl Jr., general manager of the Kohl-Gooday Lumber Co., after turning on two gas jets in the bathroom of his home at 212 West Main street, Belleville, yesterday afternoon, shot himself in the right temple with an automatic pistol which he had bound to the palm of his right hand with twine. He was found dead by his wife, Mrs. Kohl, who returned at 8:30 o'clock from a shopping trip to St. Louis. On the floor by his side was a note addressed to his wife, "To be read by her only." She has not disclosed the contents. An inquest was held and a verdict of suicide returned.

The motive is not known. Kohl was in good health and was supposed to be prosperous. He was 34 years old and had been married eight years. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Additional Ore Discoveries Made Almost Daily Around Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 12.—With additional zinc ore discoveries almost every day, Springfield is becoming a Mecca for mining men from all parts of the country. The latest discovery was at Springdale Ranch, owned by A. J. Johnston of this city, where large "secure" veins have been uncovered.

The ranch is near Chadwick, and in this region hundreds of men already are mining. Ore is being taken out in large quantities.

ARCHITECTS OFFER SUBSTITUTE IDEAS FOR PARKWAY PLAN

Broad Thoroughfares From Twelfth to South and North Sides Are Proposed.

Suggestions for the straightening and widening of streets, to afford broad highways from North and South St. Louis to Twelfth street, and better direct communication between the two sections, were offered last night by members of the St. Louis chapter, American Institute of Architects, at the West End Hotel, as their substitute for the Central Parkway plan, which the architects helped to defeat. Their talks were made before the West End Business Men's Association.

The speakers made it clear that the architects, as a body, have not formed a comprehensive plan, and do not expect to do so. The ideas submitted were those of the individual speakers. C. P. Strother, introducing the speakers, said the architects had been instrumental in defeating the Parkway, holding that something better in city improvement was possible. He said he hoped they would now tell what the better plan was.

Criticizes Parkway Plan.
 Louis La Beaume read a paper which began with a satirical reference to certain features of the Parkway plan, continued with a history of city planning in America and Europe, and then said, as to the future:

"What we ask is that a serious study of the needs of St. Louis in every aspect be made. Before a line is drawn a vast amount of data must be collected and digested. Then a plan should be worked out on paper which would ultimately benefit every section of the city, and make access from point to point easy and direct. It is not proposed to design an ideal city and attempt to achieve it regardless of cost. We don't propose to cut and slash like drunken sailors on a holiday. The feasible and the practical must be constantly borne in mind."

He added that the city plan would never be completely carried out, and might be subject to modifications from time to time. E. J. Russell began by saying that it was not the architects' business to make a city plan. This should be done by the City Plan Commission, he said, and the money necessary should be provided by the city. He offered certain definite ideas of his own, however. He told how Philadelphia had taken 30 years for the widening of Chestnut street, but had finally accomplished the widening. This was done by requiring that new buildings should stand back a certain distance from the curb. In this way, the natural growth of the city finally left the way clear. He proposed that this be done for Olive street, from Twelfth street west to Grand avenue.

Russell declared a plaza in front of Union Station to be a necessity. He said Washington avenue should be widened, under the ordinance already enacted, and that a connection should be made between it and the north-west thoroughfares, Page boulevard and Easton avenue, which would give those streets a direct outlet downtown. The same should be done for Gravois avenue, he said, by the cutting of a connection through three city blocks, and the widening of the street as far as Grand avenue. Natural Bridge road and Florissant avenue, he said, should be connected with a continuation of Twelfth street. Jefferson avenue or perhaps Twenty-first street should be made a through cross-town street, like Grand avenue.

Lantern Views Shown.
 Henry Wright then showed lantern views, some of which were included in the city planning exhibit in the city hall corridor last spring. He showed designs for new radial and lateral streets, for a river front park and for diversions of the railroad tracks from the river front and rearranging the street car system. He also showed a plan, several years old, for a plaza from the central library to the city hall grounds, but said it should not be taken up except as part of a comprehensive plan.

Wright said the private "places" in the vicinity of Forest Park had cut off direct traffic, and showed, by the customary route of the jitney cars, how traffic had been shoved over to Delmar and Washington boulevards, which, he said, were north of the business center.

B. F. BUSH IN WRECK IN WEST
 Car of President of Mo. P. Undamaged When Landslide Hits Train.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Aug. 12.—A special train carrying B. F. Bush of St. Louis, president of the Missouri Pacific and of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroads, was wrecked four miles south of here late yesterday. O. M. Potter, engineer, was fatally hurt.

The wreck was caused by a landslide hitting the locomotive, which tumbled into a ditch. The private cars were undamaged.

Says Street Car Robbers Got $14.
 John O'Neill, a conductor on the Cass avenue street car line, reported to the police that, while he was in front of his car signaling the motorman to proceed across a crossing at Sixth and Poplar streets three men jumped on the rear of the car and took $14 in nickel rolls from a little box over the conductor's stand and ran away.

Yes; S.S.S. Is Purely Vegetable Nature's Safe Blood Treatment

Known for 50 Years as the Best Remedy for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, etc. Scientists have discovered that the forest and the field are abundantly supplied with vegetation of various kinds that furnish the ingredients for making a remedy for practically every ill and ailment of mankind. Medicines made from roots, herbs and barks which Nature has placed at the disposal of man are better than strong mineral mixtures and concoctions. Mineral medicines work dangerously on the delicate parts of the system, especially the stomach and bowels, by eating out the lining membrane, producing chronic dyspepsia and often entirely ruining the health.

S.S.S. is guaranteed to be a purely vegetable remedy. It is made entirely of gentle-acting, healing, purifying roots, herbs and barks, possessing properties that build up all parts of the system, in addition to removing all impurities and poisons from the blood. S.S.S. is a safe treatment for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison and all disorders of the blood. It cleanses the entire system and it's permanent. Get S.S.S. at any drug store. S.S.S. is a standard remedy recognized everywhere as the greatest blood antiseptic ever discovered. If yours is a peculiar case write to S.S.S. Co., Atlanta, Georgia. —ADV.

RUMANIA TO SHIP 3,000,000 TONS OF GRAIN TO GERMANY

Government Expected to Remove Embargo on Export—Harvest Is Abundant.

BUKAREST, Aug. 12.—The harvest has been completed almost everywhere in the country and is very abundant. As a result, the Government will probably remove the embargo on grain exports, which has existed since the beginning of the war, and as the Danubian coast is constantly patrolled by the Russian fleet, which stops all contraband from reaching Constantinople. Last week some Turkish sailing ships transporting petrol were sunk.

FURLONGED MEN FILL PARIS CAFES WITH GAIETY AGAIN

Midnights and Models of the French Capital Rejoined by Soldier Sweethearts.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—In the Latin Quarter the return of thousands of soldiers on leave of absence has been like the day of judgment in a cemetery. The streets, the cafes and the restaurants, which have been dead, have become alive again. Midnights and artists' models have crept down from their attic rooms in their improvised finery of Sundays and holidays, and proudly leaning on the arms of their student-soldier sweethearts, parade the Luxembourg Gardens and the streets of Montparnasse in radiant joy for the first time in a year.

For here, a great part of the population has always consisted of students in the various art schools, in the University of the Sorbonne, in the schools of medicine, law and engineering and in the College of France. With the outbreak of war it was as if a great plague had swept over the Quarter. Almost no men were left.

Now, in front of the cafes, in the parks and particularly on the trams and trains bound countryward, gay parties of artists in earth-stained regimentals and models in their bravest best, celebrate the respite from fighting that the War Department has granted. There is something odd in the sight of a young soldier, a girl on his arm and a paint box instead of a knapsack strapped on his back, off for a joyous day, after so many months of the grim work of death.

On the opposite bank of the Seine, on the heights of Montmartre, the scene created by the temporary home-coming of so many of the country's soldiers is different, although no less animated. Here, many of the "permissibles," as the soldiers on leave are called, are seen for the first time. Many of the country, inhabitants of small, provincial towns, whose means never permitted them to visit Paris, seized the opportunity on their way back from the front to pass a day or two in the city. Sometimes their wives and families meet them in the capital, and together they make a pilgrimage to the points of interest of the ancient city. It is the time for many French people to see Paris first.

Churches Most Frequented.

The churches seem to be the most frequented of historic spots visited by these soldiers on vacation. Notre Dame, the Madeleine, the new building of the Church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus on the top of Montmartre, overlooking not Paris alone but the whole Seine valley, are crowded from early morning until darkness by long, shuffling lines of uniformed sightseers. Especially is this true of the Church of the Sacred Heart. So recently completed that even thousands of Parisians have not yet visited it, the new cathedral is a point of interest not only because of its rare, æthereal beauty, but also because of the commanding position it occupies, whence a magic-carpet view of the city may be obtained.

Within the darkened basilica is a flame of yellow stars of candlelight. Here come wives, sweethearts and mothers of the men in the trenches to burn waxen offerings for the safety of their loved ones. To the right of the altar, behind the chancel rail hangs a banner upon which is embroidered the legend: "Sacred Heart of Jesus, Save France." Before the fire of the candles and the silent altar and the chancel and back in the shadows of the church's lofty pillars, all day long there are soldiers kneeling in prayer.

LUSITANIA COULD HAVE BEEN SAVED, SAYS LORD BERESFORD

Tendered Prime Minister Warning Advice, April 5, Which Was Not Accepted, He Declares.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—At the meeting called for the purpose of urging the Government to declare cotton contraband, a letter was read from Lord Charles Beresford, in which he said: "On the 5th of April last I wrote to the Prime Minister on various matters connected with the war, showing how inefficiency, brought about by want of organization and forethought, was causing the loss of invaluable lives. I further stated that the cause of the disasters were all avoidable, and that men's lives were being sacrificed through criminal negligence.

"If the warning advice tendered had been acted upon the Lusitania would not have been lost. I have it in my power to prove that this statement is a fact, when the proper time comes."

Negro Girl Grabs Man's Wallet.
Frank Tavelle of Deane, Nev., reported to the police that at 1 o'clock this morning at Market and Twentieth streets a young negro girl grabbed his wallet, containing $15, and fled.

GOVERNMENT ASKS MUNITION MAKERS FOR DATA ON FACILITIES

Inquiry Instituted to Ascertain if Source of Supply Would Be Assured in Case of Emergency.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Announcement that the War Department had asked American manufacturers of war munitions for data as to their facilities for furnishing supplies, particularly in the event of an emergency, led to some speculation here today, although officials explained that the action was in accordance with the usual practices in normal times as well as in war. The announcement declared emphatically that no purchases of war supplies was contemplated at present.

The step, it is explained, was made necessary because of the fact that practically every private plant in the country is taxed to its capacity filling big orders from the warring nations of Europe.

General inquiry has been instituted to ascertain whether expansion of facilities has kept pace with the demand and whether the Government would be able to obtain a source of supply to supplement the output of its armaments and munitions, which ordinarily produce only a part of the supplies needed.

ELECTRICAL INSPECTIONS

The new Municipal Electrical Inspection Ordinance will be in effect about the first of August. The business community is hereby advised that the executive committee of this bureau has decided to continue in part its present electrical inspection department and will be prepared to inspect wiring installations upon request as in the past. The fees for inspection to remain unchanged.

BOY, 4, RUN OVER BY FREIGHT CAR, DIES AT HOSPITAL

Both Legs Are Cut and Mangled and Surgeons Are Amputating Them When Death Came.

L. Calderon, 4-year-old son of James Calderon, a laborer living in the rear of 515 Franklin avenue, was run over by a freight car on which he tried to climb when it was moving yesterday afternoon at the foot of Locust street. The boy had gone there with his 12-year-old brother to sell papers to steam-boat excursionists. He died on the operating table at the city hospital.

His legs were cut and mangled and surgeons were amputating them when he died.

REPUDIATES CONFESSION

Bank Teller at Cedar Rapids, Io., Now Denies Taking $20,000.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Io., Aug. 12.—Leo Perrin, paying teller of the Cedar Rapids National Bank, who, bank officials and detectives announced, had confessed taking $20,000 of the bank's funds, last night repudiated his confession. He is said to have told Cashier Kent C. Forman and a detective that he had borrowed the $20,000 found in a sofa pillow in his mother's home, from a friend in Chicago, when fearing arrest for the theft from the bank. Perrin declines to be "suffering for another."

Perrin's prosecution rests with his bonding company, the local representatives of which said the case, in all probability, would be dropped if complete restitution was made.

BOY ACROBAT FALLS 15 FEET

Right Leg Fractured in Climbing Walls to Get Ball.

Oliver Dattley, 9 years old, son of Mrs. Margaret Campbell of 3131 Rolla place, fell yesterday while climbing between two houses and his right leg was fractured.

A baseball had fallen upon the roof of a house at 3131 Rolla place. The side wall of this house is separated by only two feet from the side wall of an adjoining house and the boy attempted to work his way to the roof by keeping feet and arms alternately braced against the adjoining wall as he climbed a height of about 15 feet when he fell. He was taken to the city hospital.

EFFORT MADE TO CLOUD ISSUE IN SCHOOL FUND CASE

Lawyer for Gass Asked to Include Other Special Fees in Mandamus Suit.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 12.—A Post-Dispatch reporter learned today that an effort is being made by certain politicians to cloud the issue in the mandamus suit to save the school fund, by injecting into the petition a number of special fees and other emoluments which the State collects in other funds and attempting to establish all of them as "ordinary" revenues.

A. T. Dumm, the attorney who has been employed by Howard A. Gass, State Superintendent of Schools, to bring the suit in behalf of the schools, was in conference today with the opposing attorneys in the case, Assistant Attorney-General Rutherford and J. M. Glendon, special counsel in the Attorney-General's office, and they were urging Dumm to include in his petition, not only oil, grain and beer inspection fees, which always have been regarded as ordinary revenues, but the automobile registration fees and receipts of the penitentiary labor contracts.

Attorney-General Barker held in an official opinion that the beer, oil and grain inspection fees were "extraordinary" revenues and should not be considered in apportioning the school fund, though they always had been divided with the public schools in former years.

His Advice Followed.
Auditor Gordon followed his advice, taking from the public schools $614,500, which he would have received and turning that amount into the general revenue fund. He thus overcame a $400,000 deficit in the State Treasury which otherwise would have confronted him when the monthly pay roll had to be met.

After announcing that he would look into the matter and later that he would do nothing about it, Supt. Gass finally offered to bring a friendly mandamus suit against the Auditor in the Supreme Court to determine the exact status of the fees in question.

After the conference with the Attorney-General's office this morning Dumm told a Post-Dispatch reporter that nothing would be injected into his suit that might impair its efficiency.

"The question at issue," he said, "is whether the fees collected for beer, oil and grain inspection, and which have heretofore been considered 'ordinary' revenues, have suddenly become 'extraordinary' revenues, and thus, whether the public schools are to be deprived of more than $200,000."

Would Include Other Fees.
Assistant Attorney General Rutherford said he believed all the "extraordinary" fees that the state collected should be included in the suit, so that the court could pass on all of them at one time.

"When we get this case decided," he said, "somebody will bob up and claim that the school fund ought to get its share of all these other fees."

The Legislature has provided that the automobile registration fees shall constitute the good road fund and that the receipts of the labor contracts and the binding time plant at the penitentiary shall be a part of the maintenance fund for that institution.

JORDAN W. LAMBERT NOTIFIES BROTHERS OF WEDDING IN CANADA

Miss Berenice Kendall of Webster Groves His Bride—Ceremony in Montreal Last Saturday.

Jordan W. Lambert, treasurer of the Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., has telegraphed from Montreal to his brothers here that he was married last Saturday to Miss Berenice Kendall, who has been living with her mother and sister at 420 Oakwood avenue, Webster Groves. The mother and sister were present at the wedding, the telegram stated.

Lambert is a brother of Albert Bond, Marion L. J. D. Wooster and Arthur W. Lambert. His first wife, who was before her marriage Miss Helen Churchill Smith of St. Louis, separated from him after much attention had been attracted by the psychic feats of Will Hannegan, an employee in their home.

Lambert, after the separation, came from London to St. Louis papers that Hannegan had had nothing to do with his domestic troubles, and took the blame on himself. The first Mrs. Lambert later obtained a divorce.

C. & E. I. Mail Train Sets Record.
The Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad is proclaiming a new feat in rail-roading in the record of its fast mail train from Chicago to St. Louis, which, since the service was begun, Feb. 8, has been late only twice. The train leaves Chicago at 7:30 p. m. and reaches St. Louis at 2 a. m. to connect with the fast mail trains on railroads to the Southwest. The train has made 118 trips and has been on time 116 times. The Chicago & Eastern Illinois maintains a similar schedule for a mail train from St. Louis to Chicago.

North Presbyterian Church Carnival.
A carnival, which will continue tomorrow and Saturday evenings, opens to-night upon the lawn of the North Presbyterian Church, St. Louis and Warren avenues, under the auspices of the various societies in the congregation. The entertainment will vary each evening, and will comprise an Old Folks concert, a Tom Thumb wedding, an operetta, a dramatic sketch and shadow graphs.

The Well-Dressed Men.
Seen on Olive street are making their way to success. By buying from the merchants' announcements in the Post-Dispatch every Friday you will always be well dressed.

Train Wrecked Near Columbus, O.

By Associated Press. COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 12.—Five persons were killed and at least 30 were injured, some of them seriously, early today, when a freight train crashed into a special train bearing a party of members of Knights of Pythias Lodge of Mount Sterling, O., many of them, accompanied by their wives or other members of their families.

The accident occurred at Orient Station on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railroad, 14 miles south of Columbus. The excursionists were returning from an annual outing at Cedar Point, near Sandusky. The excursion train had stopped to take water when the freight train crashed into it.

Members of the freight crew said they knew the excursion was ahead of them but understood their orders gave the freight train a clear track.

The dead are: Logan Holler, Pickaway County, farmer; Margaret Sollars, Thornie Neff, Carl Reichelderfer and Thad Mitchell, all of Mount Sterling or the immediate vicinity.

Several of the injured, including Mrs. Thornie Neff, wife of one of those killed, are believed to have been fatally injured.

FIRE CAPTAIN IS REDUCED TO COAL WAGON DRIVER

Chief Henderson Surprises Engine House of Man in Department 33

Years and Makes Change. Frank Cudmore, a captain in the St. Louis Fire Department for more than 23 years at a salary of $130 a month, suddenly has been reduced to a coal-wagon driver at $106 a month as a result of Chief Henderson making an unexpected call at Cudmore's engine house, Shawmut place and Ridge avenue, at 3 a. m. Monday to test the efficiency of the company.

Chief Henderson surprised the night watchman when he entered suddenly and rang the bell which arouses the firemen when an alarm is sounded. The chief waited until the horses were hitched and the captain demanded to know where the alarm came from. The chief informed him there had been no alarm, that he was merely testing the efficiency of the company, and had found it was not up to the required standard. He said some other things about the company being too slow, and included the captain in his remarks. He wound up by notifying the captain to appear at his office. The captain appeared and was reduced to a coal-wagon driver. He was assigned to an engine company at 3648 South Broadway.

Cudmore has been a member of the fire department 23 years. He had no criticism for the action of the chief. He said that perhaps the men had not been quick enough in responding to the bell.

SHUBERT THEATER MANAGERS TRYING TO DISPOSE OF LEASE

Bookings Will Be Transferred to Garrick if Deal Can Be Closed.

The management of the Shubert Theater at Twelfth and Locust streets is trying to dispose of its lease there with a view to closing the Shubert and transferring its bookings to the Garrick Theater on Chestnut street between Broadway and Sixth streets.

Efforts have been made to induce the Union Electric Co. to take over the Shubert Theater Co.'s unexpired lease. The electric company occupies all of the Twelfth street building except the space used by the theater.

A. C. Einstein, general manager of the Union Electric Co. today told a reporter that his company had no intention of taking over the theater's lease. The proposition was made to the electric company and was declined about six months ago, Einstein said, and since then there had been no negotiations.

BRITAIN PROMOTES BEATTY TO RANK OF VICE ADMIRAL

Husband of Marshall Field's Daughter Is 45—Youngest Officer Ever to Reach His New Position.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Official Gazette announces today that Sir David Beatty has been promoted to be a Vice Admiral.

Sir David Beatty, in the present war, commanded the British fleet, which in August, 1914, sank four German warships off Heligoland and won a victory over a German squadron in the North Sea the following January. In this latter fight the German cruiser Bluecher was sent to the bottom.

Vice Admiral Beatty is only 45 years old and the youngest officer ever promoted to the rank of Vice Admiral in the British navy. His wife was Miss Edith Field, a daughter of the late Marshall Field of Chicago.

(Speedy Secret)
No toilet table is complete without a heated iron should not be used to give the desired wavy effect. For it destroys the life, luster and softness of the hair. It is far better to use plain liquid all over the hair, which cures the hair more effectively, more lasting, and at the same time keeps it beautifully soft, "fluffy" and glossy. It is beneficial instead of harmful, and it is such a simple thing to apply the liquid before retiring, using a clean toothbrush for the purpose and drawing this down the hair from root to tip. Very different from the three-strand, curly curling iron method. Pure olive oil in liquid form may be found in any drug store, and a few ounces will last a very long time. It is neither sticky nor greasy, and it is a natural, gentle, and safe. The hair will be quite manageable, and it will stay in curl even in damp or warm, mercury weather—ADP.

TWO WOMEN IN AUTO KILLED

One a Chicago Broker's Wife the Other a Social Worker.
CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Mrs. Alice G. Randall of Oak Park, wife of a Chicago broker, and Miss Harriett Blake, a social worker, were killed last night when their automobile crashed into a street car. Mrs. Randall, son of Mrs. Randall, the driver, was thrown to the street, but escaped with bruises. The occupants of the automobile were returning from a theater.

TOBY CLAUDE AND ACTOR DISAPPEAR WITH HIS CHILD

William Smythe Defies Court Order to Turn Girl Over to His Wife.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—William Smythe, an actor, and Toby Claude, an English music hall favorite, with whom he toured the United States last season, have disappeared suddenly from their apartment here with Smythe's daughter, Kathleen, 5 years old, and are supposed to have taken passage for Bordeaux. Smythe was to have appeared in the office of attorneys for his wife, Marie Nevins Smythe, last Saturday and surrender possession of the child to her in response to an order from Justice Ford.

Mrs. Smythe, who also is an actress and is about to go on the stage, waited at the office with a governess, into whose custody the child was to be placed, until it was apparent that Smythe would not appear. Investigation then revealed that Smythe and Miss Claude had suddenly packed their belongings and had been driven away from their apartment in an automobile.

In bringing suit for possession of the child, Mrs. Smythe based her action principally upon her husband's attentions to Miss Claude and at the same time introduced a remarkable letter written to her by her rival. It is as follows:

I am awfully sorry if I have hurt you, because I want nobody else's man. I never would have listened to him if I had known that you cared about him.

He wears a ring with my name engraved in it, and all the things he wears I gave him. His watch chain, cigarette case, wrist watch, cigar cutter, gold sovereign case. In fact, all the things he has in that line and the brushes which he left at your house on Sunday.

I bought your baby's little blue chain and locket and her lace collar and her waterproof things; he did not object to that.

If you like I will see and tell you how sorry I am to have caused you any trouble.

Of course I am not the only woman, but am the only one who really cared for him, I think.

A letter written by Smythe to his wife when in England has been made public. It was sent while the actor is alleged to have been devoting himself to Miss Claude, though this was at the time unknown to Mrs. Smythe.

The letter is addressed to "My Own Dearest Darling Wife," and concludes: "So write me at once what you think, and kiss Kathleen a million times for me and two million for yourself. I am always yours, Billy."

AUSTRALIAN IN SINGLE-HANDED FIGHT KILLS SEVEN TURKS

Lance-Corporal Jacka Wins $2500 and Gold Medal for Deed on Gallipoli Peninsula.

MELBOURNE, Aug. 11.—Lance-Corporal Jacka, Fourteenth Battalion Australian Imperial Force, receives the $2500 and the gold medal promised by John Wren to the first Australian to win the Victoria Cross.

On the night of May 19-20, at Courtney's Post, Gallipoli Peninsula, Jacka, when holding a portion of a trench with four other men, was heavily attacked. When all except himself were killed or wounded the trench was rushed and occupied by seven Turks.

Jacka at once attacked them single handed and killed the whole party, five by rifle fire and two with the bayonet.

Today's Beauty Helps

Nothing excites more criticism than a woman with her face all daubed with face powder in her desire to be faultless or an aging skin. Instead of using powder, which clogs enlarges the pores, it is far better to use a good face lotion that will prove and permanently benefit skin. By dissolving four ounces of spumax in a half pint of hot water you can make an inexpensive lotion that will do wonders as a skin whiter and complexion beautifier. It moves all shininess, sallowness and roughness, and gives the skin smooth, velvety tone, while it does not rub off easily like powder, it does it show on the skin.

By washing the hair with a teaspoonful of canthrox dissolved in a cup of hot water, afterward rinsing thoroughly with clear water, one finds that it dries quickly and evenly, is streaked, bright, soft and very fluffy, in fact, that it looks much arranging it becomes a pleasure. The simple, inexpensive shampoo cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly of the dandruff and dirt, and leaves a clean, wholesome feeling. All scalp irritation will disappear, and the hair will be brighter and glossier than ever before.—ADV.

Sundays, 9 to 1.

By JEAN KNOTT

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Announcement was made here today that the Chicago Federals had signed Arnold Hauser, who for years was one of the greater shortstops in the National League. Hauser disappeared from the game three years ago because of an injury. He was then a member of the St. Louis Nationals. He is expected to replace Jimmie Smith.

Marrama, through his attorney, C. C. Madison, Tuesday filed a motion asking for the dissolving of the injunction obtained against him by the Cincinnati club on Oct. 15.

Marrama, who was engaged as an outfielder by the St. Louis Federal League team, has been prevented from playing this season by an injunction obtained by his former employers, the Cincinnati team of the National League.

TWO MUNICIPAL LEAGUE STARS DRAW FENALTIES

Two players, George Schaefer, of the St. Louis team, and W. H. Webster, of the Sodality League, have been suspended by Rodows Abelson of the Municipal League for using improper language. Schaefer has been set down for two weeks, while the latter gets a one week suspension.

Five tossers, P. Wellbelow, John Greenberg, Don Schneider, Capt. O'Brien and W. Webster were reinstated.

LITTLETON WINS FROM HOWARD IN 10 ROUNDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—"Happy" Littleton, the New Orleans pugilist, defeated "Big" Howard in a ten-round bout here last night.

Howard, a Baltimore fighter, the first 14-round bout here last night, was knocked out in the sixth round by a left hook in the eighth round. "Big" Thornton, who was the referee, said that Littleton was saved from a knockout by Howard's knockdown in the eighth round.

 BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Today's game between the Terrific and Buffalo was postponed; rain. Two games will be played tomorrow.

Three Million Dollars In August.

The Sales Goal Our Five Stores Is to Make This Month

THIS is the biggest trade event in the annals of St. Louis retailing. It is a stupendous merchandising movement, with weeks of careful planning back of it. Countless trade advantages have come our way from jobbers, manufacturers & importers with surpluses to dispose of, and the splendid discounts we have earned for ready cash are the savings which YOU now make.

The buying makes it more than ever apparent that this is

A Sale Unlike Any St. Louis Has Experienced

& demonstrates more clearly than ever the advantages that come to this organization because of its tremendous volume—a volume that is greater by SIX MILLION DOLLARS than the combined yearly sales of our six nearest competitors.

WOMAN CONFESSES SHE AND TWO SONS MURDERED HER HUSBAND

Wisconsin Farmer's Body Carried in Carriage to Railroad and Placed on Track.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 12.—Albert Herms, a farmer, 55 years old, residing near Beaver, Shawano County, was murdered by his wife and two sons and his body was thrown from a carriage on to the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad tracks, according to a confession said to have been obtained by District Attorney A. M. Andrews. Herms' body was discovered after the train had mutilated it. An investigation revealed the fact that an empty carriage was standing on the bridge over the tracks when the train struck the body.

Blood-soaked cushions were found and county officers are said to have traced the crime to the Herms home, where the District Attorney declares he obtained the confession from Mrs. Herms and her sons. The motive for the murder is not known.

HEAVY MORTGAGES PUT ON PROPERTY OF H. C. G. LUYTIES

Widow Who Sued Him Fears She Will Have to Bring "Society Women" Into Case.

While Attorney Charles M. Hay, formerly of Fulton, Mo., and his client, Kathleen E. Gowdy, late of Los Angeles, were receiving a second relay of reporters at the Hotel Jefferson today, records at the Recorder's office showed that heavy mortgages were being placed on the property of Herman C. G. Luyties of 35 Portland place, against whom Mrs. Gowdy yesterday filed a $250,000 breach of promise suit.

Deeds of trust on Luyties' Portland place home and on property at Forest Park boulevard and Boyle avenue were filed in the Recorder's office yesterday.

The property at 35 Portland place, with a frontage of 92 feet, is shown by one of the deeds to have been mortgaged for $15,000. The deed also shows there was a prior mortgage of $25,000 on this property.

The other deed is for $10,000 on the Forest Park boulevard property, subject to a former mortgage of $15,000. The property has a frontage of 500 feet. The Herman C. G. Luyties Realty Co. is named as the maker of the deeds, for the benefit of the Title Guaranty Trust Co., through Thomas J. Sheridan, an employee of the trust company.

Mrs. Gowdy is a blonde, with hair of an auburn tinge. She is under the average height and slender, with blue, smiling eyes veiled by long lashes. When she received reporters today she was wearing a smart, white tailored hat, lined with black, a transparent white crepe waist, tailored skirt, white silk stockings and patent leather pumps. She wore large pearl and black earrings.

Much as she would regret to do it, Mrs. Gowdy said, she fears it will be necessary for her to name "another woman" if her case goes to trial. She describes this woman as being of social prominence, and says she believes Luyties would keep his promise to marry her but for the fact that he believes the "other woman" has a prior claim on him.

In an interview given to reporters in the presence of her attorney last night, Mrs. Gowdy told of her relations with Luyties.

After making the reporters comfortable, Mrs. Gowdy said: "The pitiless publicity that comes to me as a result of my dreadful experience is the hardest ordeal of my life."

Mrs. Gowdy, protesting that she shrank from idle gossip, gave publicity to several details of her relations with Luyties which were not included in her breach of promise petition.

A woman who assisted in receiving the reporters was introduced by Mrs. Gowdy as her sister, who, she said, was the Marchioness Janelli, widow of an Italian nobleman.

Tells of His Departure. Mrs. Gowdy said Luyties left her in the Portland place home more than a month ago and has not returned. A short time before he departed, she said, he had an excited conversation over the telephone with a woman whose photograph he had and after this he grew cold toward her. One afternoon, she said, he came home apparently greatly agitated and said to her:

"My God! I can't marry all these women."

Soon after this Luyties departed from St. Louis.

Mrs. Gowdy said she first met Luyties at the Planters Hotel nine years ago. At that time she was separated from her husband, H. A. Gowdy of Minneapolis, who has since died.

She was introduced to Luyties and Mrs. Luyties by Mrs. F. H. Werns of Quincy, Ill., she said, and she and Mrs. Luyties became close friends, exchanging visits and letters.

BUSINESS CAREER OF PICTURESQUE BOOKSELLER ENDS

Phillip Roeder, Found to Be of Unsound Mind, Had Conducted Store 40 Years.

A picturesque figure known to St. Louis buyers of books passed from active business life yesterday when the Probate Court declared Phillip Roeder, veteran bookseller, to be of unsound mind and appointed two guardians to take charge of his business. Roeder had been in the book business in St. Louis for about 40 years.

His mental breakdown followed an attack of paralysis last March, ascribed by his friends to overwork. It was his practice to open his store each morning and to lock it up at night. He was never known to take a vacation and while his real estate holdings required considerable attention, he always seemed to be grudge any call that took him from his books.

Roeder will be 70 years old in December. Of recent years he has been living with his daughter, Mrs. Oscar Dunham, at 1708 Carr street. Dunham and his other son-in-law, Louis F. Abel, have been appointed guardians. His estate is valued at upward of $25,000.

Roeder came to this country from Germany with his parents when he was about 10 years old. He attended school in the old Laclede School, at Seventh and Poplar streets, and his first employment was in the book store of Willie Gray, at Third and Olive streets. At the outbreak of the Civil War Gray enlisted and Roeder was left in charge of the store.

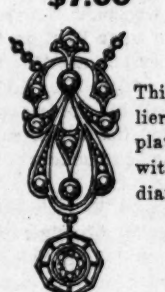

After the war Roeder decided to start in business for himself and opened his first store at Second and Olive streets, later moving to Fourth and Olive, where the Rialto Building now stands.

Incorporates His Business. For 20 years he remained in this neighborhood, the last 10 of which saw his store at 307 North Fourth street. Then he moved his store to 316 Locust street, the present site of a part of the Railway Exchange Building, and about four years ago he again moved to the present site at 703 Locust street. At this time he incorporated the business and J. W. Wood, who had been associated in business with him for 14 years, became vice president of the corporation, and his son, Charles Roeder, became secretary. Roeder somewhat prided himself upon what friends told him was his likeness to Nathaniel Hawthorne. He kept his almost white hair somewhat long and affected an old style manner of attire.

The Best Man Wins

A story in which the hero who got the girl was not the one capable of putting up the best fight.

By Frank Filson.

PHILLIPS' theory was that it was better to be king of a village than the second ruler of New York. No less an authority than Julius Caesar had said that before him, in a slightly different shape; but Caesar didn't have to prove it, and Phillips did.

He spent his vacation in a little village in the Catskills, where the girls from the department stores went. It was a quiet sort of place, and the quietest sort of girls went there. Phillips' vacation unfortunately lasted a month.

With a succession of young women coming and going, Phillips, being a gentleman in appearance and having plenty of money, was in his element. He flirted with all and each, indiscriminately. Naturally, he created a good deal of enmity at the little hotel. Anyone can do that, but Phillips thought he was a lady-killer.

I used to watch him from the porch and I wished I were 30 years younger. I should have enjoyed nothing better than to take the young blackguard by the collar and trounce him soundly. Of course people set out to enjoy themselves, but Phillips had planned it all out before. Besides, the man was outrageous with his duds and his generally offensive air.

But it was none of my business, and I watched the affairs with three or four of the girls to whom Phillips swore eternal devotion until it came to Dorothy Raines. That set my back up badly.

"On General Principles."

DOROTHY was the niece of the hotel keeper, and in the summer she helped in the hotel. In the winter, I believe, she taught in the local school. I had gone there several successive summers, and I knew she was engaged to the finest of the young fellows of the town—New Walker. In fact, she had confided to me that they meant to get married that fall.

When Phillips spotted her I had to admit that his taste was good. Dorothy would have been a belle if she had been tagged up instead of wearing her simple white and skirt of village make. But Dorothy was a sweet girl, and the thought of Phillips winning her heart from Ned and then going complacently away was too much for me.

Of course the girl couldn't resist the open admiration of the city man. Dorothy wasn't stupid enough to be able to distinguish the gold from the glitter, and Ned hadn't the airs and graces of that man Phillips. Day by day I watched the progress of the flirtation. Ned noticed it, too. One evening there was a quarrel, and presently Dorothy came round in front of the porch, and her eyes were red, as if she had been crying. I saw Ned slouch moodily away, and a few minutes later the girl and Phillips were talking together at the other end of the porch.

New was an old friend of mine, and the next day I had a few words with him.

"Ned," I said, "if you had been out out fairly I wouldn't waste much sympathy on you. But that fellow is only amusing himself. That's his fun. He wants to break her heart and then go back to the city. I've watched him try it on some of the other girls here. Ned, be a man!"

"I'd like to thrash that fellow!" said Ned, doubling his fists.

"Why don't you?" I asked, looking at his husky build. "It would do him good. And it would show Miss Dorothy who's the better man."

"I can't thrash a fellow for taking my girl away," said Ned. "It's up to me to keep her."

"That's true," I answered, "but thrash him on general principles, Ned."

"What's that?" asked Ned, and I tried to explain. I painted Phillips' character as it appeared to me. "Age you going to let Miss Dorothy's heart get broken?" I inquired. "Of course you'll win her back afterward. But is the game worth the candle, looking at it from the woman's viewpoint?"

"No, sir," said Ned, and I knew he had made up his mind.

The Two Men Fight.

SAW the two together most of the day, and I wondered when Ned would bring off his coup. He chose the best time—after dinner. They were walking in the grounds, and I suppose I had no business to follow Ned when I saw him go after them; but I wanted to see Dorothy's eyes opened, and that is my only excuse for what I did.

I saw Ned go up to the couple and speak to Phillips. I don't know what he said, but I heard Phillips' snort of contempt.

"Can you fight?" Ned demanded next.

"I can whip a dozen like you," Phillips retorted.

"Then I'm going to thrash you on general principles," said Ned, and I could hardly keep from clapping my hands and crying "bravo!"

Miss Dorothy had hardly recovered from her surprise when the two were at it, hammer and tongs.

I had not expected Phillips to put up much of a fight, but it was a case of Ned doing his best to stop Phillips' rushes. After the first minute Phillips knocked Ned down, and when he got up Phillips let him have it again. Ned didn't get home more than once, and in the end Ned was stretched out upon the ground, half unconscious. It had been Phillips from beginning to end, and he handled his fists in a very creditable way.

I suppose it was fear of the publicity, but all the while the girl stood there like a statue, and never moved or spoke. Nobody saw me, and I felt pretty badly to see how my plot had miscarried. Because my idea had been to show the girl what a coward Phillips was, and instead, it was Ned who got the thrashing.

"Ned enough!" sneered Phillips.

"Ned enough!" Ned groaned; he couldn't raise himself from the ground.

"If this brute has had his lesson, let us continue our walk, Miss Raines," suggested Phillips.

And up of ideas.

AND suddenly the girl turned on him with flashing eyes.

"You brute!" she cried. "How dare you! How dare you fight a man weaker than yourself! Go away at once! Do you hear me?" She stamped her foot like a fury.

The next moment she was kneeling at Ned's side, calling him all the endearing terms in her vocabulary. Her arms were round him, and with her skirt she began sponging the bruises on his face. "Forgive me, Ned," she was sobbing.

I went away then, because I realized I had no business there. But it seems strange to me; I had thought a woman loved strength in a man, but if Ned had beaten Phillips he would have lost her forever. It sort of upset my ideas—and at my age one doesn't like that.

Phillips departed the next morning by early train, and I imagine he won't show his face up this way in a hurry again. Dorothy and Ned are to be married in October—and I've been asked to stay on and be best man. It's curious; I should think Ned would never want to see me again after that beating. But I suppose he considers all roads good ones that lead to Dorothy.

Shopping in Burma.

It requires a great effort to get a Burmese shopwoman (they are nearly all women) to show you her wares. When at last she has spread her merchandise broadcast upon the table and you are revelling in the illusion that you are living in the middle of a rainbow, with a chance of holding fast to some of its colors, she will ask her price, which is seldom more than one rupee too much, and will stick to it "like glue."

She is an indolent woman in many ways, who loves a quiet life, and she has determined that her most comfortable course is not to haggle in the market place.

So you may make up your mind that bargaining and persuasion are useless arts to practise in Burma, however valuable they may be elsewhere.

You may also be sure that the little shopwoman will never be so glib as you do not purchase. She will thank you with a bright smile and, having packed up her rainbow, will return to her cigar.

Tags and Tatters

Sandman story of a poor little soldier boy who grew up to be Commander of the fort he once saved.

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

THE man was just setting over the wide prairie. Across its red disk could be seen a long wagon train slowly creaking its way to the fort. At the head rode a small troop of cavalry, and behind lumbered the great mule teams and their cumbersome loads. Behind back of the wagons lagged a funny figure—a thin boy sitting astride a small, white mule.

Tags was the mule's name and Tatters that belonging to the boy. Tags had been in the army since he was born, and Tatters was also reared in the same way, as his father, who died a year before, had been a private stationed at the fort. So Tags and Tatters became great friends.

As Tags and Tatters bumped along leisurely at the end of the wagon train two officers rode by. One was speaking in an excited voice. It was the Colonel in command.

"It looks as if there were figures moving just beyond the fort," the Colonel was saying. "The light is growing dim, but it would appear the Indians are coming up to attack us at once. We had best dash into the fort at once—the women and children are in there—we will be obliged to leave the wagons at once, if we are to reach our families."

THE Colonel galloped on. In a moment a shrill bugle call rang out across the prairie. A second later and the whole cavalry escort was running at full speed for the fort. Across the brightness of the setting sun there came in view a yelling mob of Indian warriors. Onward they dashed, shaking their guns above their heads as they swept forward. The cavalry reached the great gate, which swung open with a bang. Through it they swept and behind them the gate closed shut.

It was all done so quickly that Tatters had not had time to understand what was taking place. But when the fort was closed and the wagon train left outside he understood at once that the troops had been forced to go to the rescue of the families and leave the wagons. Part of the regular force usually at the fort was away, and it would have been impossible to defend the train and the fort, too.

Tatters sat up and watched the Indians surround the wagons. The quiet took the lead and in a few moments the whole train was being sent away from the fort and back over the plains, a dozen Indians at the head and as many more in the rear. Tatters rode just behind the last wagon, for an ugly, painted redskin had him in charge, and it was impossible for him to escape now.

Now, Tatters was accustomed to such experiences, yet he was much frightened. But he kept quiet. In about an hour they halted for supper. And a fine one the Indians had with all the good things from the wagons.

WHEN the moon crept out Tatters was told to lie down on a rug under a tree, near a chief called Red Feather. So he curled up and pretended to be snoring. As soon as the camp was quiet he stole out to where

Tags was grazing and jumped on his back.

Out across the plains rose the wind, the moon sank behind the clouds and a storm raged over the waving sea of grass. Through the roll of the thunder and flashing of the lightning the mule kept on his way, with his long, swinging plod. Tatters was wet to the skin, but thought only of getting on as fast as he could.

As Tags limped into camp a wet boy tumbled off and almost fell on a sleeping soldier. In a moment the troops were awake, and guided by Tatters on a fresh horse, sweeping toward the Indian camp.

The Indians were still asleep when the cavalry reached their resting place, so it was but the work of a moment to capture them.

As long as Tags lived he held an honored post at the fort, while Tatters grew up to be an officer and commanded the fort one day himself.

One Reason Why So Many Young Women Stay Unmarried.

IN studying and observing why there are so many young women unmarried, this conclusion is reached:

Many girls and boys are shuns or "pals" and often in this way, being constantly in each other's company, they find their true mates.

Some marry young, and others can go on "keeping company," while years drag along, and it gets a girl nowhere; and often she finds she has missed a chance to find her lifemate and marry.

Other girls live too much alone, and seldom see anyone, so they are passed by.

The girl who does not chum with boys and girls often has a better chance to get a sweetheart and keep one. Many nice young men hesitate about intruding on a girl who is so popular, and whose evenings are all planned ahead with the clique.

If the admirer is a little older than the girl and has given up going the rounds with a group, he prefers to find one girl for himself to love and marry. Naturally he can't be interested in others.

Because such a young man isn't a gay social butterfly doesn't mean he can't be superior to them if he is not in their set.

It's not the cliques nor the smartness of the young people that puts them on a higher plane. It's only so in their foolish imagination.

In a way, it's a aimless life, and of no real importance to anyone. It's a habit—this going around in crowds or cliques.

Such a state of affairs can exist for ever and a day unless the young folks marry.

It is much better for a boy and girl meaning matrimony to try to be by themselves, to get to know each other, exchange ideas, than to be in with a crowd continually.

Parents should think that by the time a girl is 20 she is of age to marry, and to have a mind of her own, and if their daughter cannot learn to like a "social young man" she may have more wisdom than they give her credit for.

The worst of the clique custom is that a girl feels she is not free. Her clique claims her. If she stays away an evening plans become upset, and many persons comment.

Then if she has a young man, she is not free to entertain him; she feels he must meet with approval of the crowd.

Dear parents, that can never be. In ordinary cliques within cliques, you will find any outsider is "one too many" and is at a disadvantage, because they have so little in common.

When a man is five years older than a girl, his ideas have changed, and if he has settled down it's all for the best, if he breaks away from cliques.

A girl should break away from her clique, meet a young man and take plenty of time to study him.

She will be at home more, and so have time for callers with her parents' approval.

They will get to see her point of view, provided the young man is all that can be desired, and there soon will be one less "old maid" in the world.

Tags was grazing and jumped on his back.

Out across the plains rose the wind, the moon sank behind the clouds and a storm raged over the waving sea of grass. Through the roll of the thunder and flashing of the lightning the mule kept on his way, with his long, swinging plod. Tatters was wet to the skin, but thought only of getting on as fast as he could.

As Tags limped into camp a wet boy tumbled off and almost fell on a sleeping soldier. In a moment the troops were awake, and guided by Tatters on a fresh horse, sweeping toward the Indian camp.

The Indians were still asleep when the cavalry reached their resting place, so it was but the work of a moment to capture them.

As long as Tags lived he held an honored post at the fort, while Tatters grew up to be an officer and commanded the fort one day himself.

How Our Teeth Decay

THE enamel covering our teeth is of sufficiently good material to last as long as we do if we intelligently co-operate in the care of them.

This may be accomplished by simply paying a visit once every month to a reliable dentist and having the teeth given a thorough cleaning—this to be followed up by daily faithful care. Faithful care means the brushing of the teeth upon rising and retiring and after each meal.

A good tooth powder is two ounces of precipitated chalk, one-half ounce Castile powdered soap and one dram of powdered orris root.

It seems the mouth germs can only gain a foothold where there is some roughness to cling to.

Decaying food creates acids which corrode the enamel and afford the desired roughness, and the tartar affords the same.

This being the case, it is very easy to see why clean teeth are so necessary. If these mouth germs do get fastened upon unclean teeth it is almost impossible to dislodge them, as they are provided by nature with a glue-like substance by which they attach themselves, and there they stay and very busy they keep. Having entered the tooth through tartar and corroded enamel, they do not stop until the tooth is, we say, decayed.

The mouth, through cleaning the polishing of the teeth, keeps off the growth of tartar, and dentists who have used this preventive method claim that if children's teeth are given a fair chance they may at the age of 30 be without a single cavity, and that, if it is possible, we say, decayed.

FAMILY GETS SPENCER ESTATE

half to be Divided Among Members and Half Held in Trust.

James M. Spencer, who died Aug. 7 at Atlantic City, was dead yesterday for probate. His estate is left to his widow and five children, one-half to be divided among them and the other half held in trust of James M. McCuskey and Horatio Spencer, on the heirs to get only the income from it.

The sum of $500 is bequeathed to the University of Pennsylvania, for perpetuating a scholarship medal and $1000 to the University of the South. His widow, Mrs. Lilla Spencer, is permitted to occupy the family residence 1215 Washington avenue, and a son, James M. Spencer, is permitted to occupy office property belonging to the estate at a fixed rental.

BOY, 3, ANOTHER, 4, RUN AWAY

Whole Neighborhood Racketed Until They Return at 12 M. E.

Smith Lorenz, 4 years old, and Rudolph Melzerich, 3, whose homes are at 2811 West 4th and 2419 North Fifteenth street, gave out neighborhood an afternoon's excitement yesterday by playing a water war. They were not back home until 10 o'clock last night when the policemen brought them back. In the meantime, people along the river bank were asked whether they had seen any boys, and police stations and city hall were furnished with addresses for the boys. They ran away, their parents say, probably because they feared a whipping if going near the river without permission.

THE POST-DISPATCH'S DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

SPECIALTIES ARE

THE STOCK MARKETSome War Order Issues Score Wide Gains; Rails Are Irregular.By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The Evening
Post's copyrighted financial review, today says:Prices fluctuated irregularly in today's stock market at times there was a good deal of unsettlement, with weakness in some quarters. Trading was less active and except for the sharp uplifting of prices in the specialties, some of which advanced violently on the circulation of stories touching large disbursements or the declaration of dividends, there was nothing very interesting in the speculation of the day.Sentiment appeared to be a good deal mixed, and it was evident that the "war stocks" as a class had lost some of their popularity since the new high price level had been established.The market as a whole was very largely professional, and the effect of pool manipulation which is often seen at this stage of a speculative campaign.The public was interested in a limited way. Some brokers took pains to warn their customers against the pitfalls of speculation in the group of unknown industrial shares which have benefited chiefly through the craze for stocks.

Rails Are Irregular.

"Railroad stocks were strong at times, but there was little sustained buying pressure outside of the standard shares. Some of the issues which were active and strong yesterday before the full effects of the rate decision were appreciated were pretty well neglected.
On the other hand a few of the industrial shares were advanced sharply, with renewed activity in some of the lower-priced issues. But the general movement was little real enthusiasm, and while there was little forced selling there was none of the feverish buying seen in the excited markets of a week ago.It was evident that the rate increase had been a good deal of a disappointment to various railroad officials, some of whom came out with specific statements as to the meagerness of gains in revenue to be shown by their roads under the new rate."Exchange on London declined, as usual, to a new low level, the quotation being 4 1/2, which was 1/2 cent below the rate touched yesterday.This movement attracted general comment, one feature being the general rather than the specific nature of the comment. But the general nature of the comment was that the rate increase was a disappointment to various railroad officials, some of whom came out with specific statements as to the meagerness of gains in revenue to be shown by their roads under the new rate.In the last hour the market became quiet, with little sustained buying

The Jarr Family

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By Roy L. McCordell

The Jarrs Accept Hospitality of the "For Revenue Only"

"HERE the Ranges invite us to dinner and instead of having dinner in their own home we're going to a restaurant," said Mrs. Jarr. "I know how this taking dinner in a restaurant will end. It will mean that we will pay the check."

"You were present when the matter came up," said Mr. Jarr. "They asked us to have dinner at their house, and you said it would be such a bother for Mrs. Rangle, and suggested we all go alone together at a restaurant."

"Well, I didn't suggest that we should pay for it," said Mrs. Jarr. "I'm sure those Ranges could do that much. We have entertained them dozens of times."

"They've entertained us, too," said Mr. Jarr.

"And why shouldn't they?" replied Mrs. Jarr.

There being no reason why they shouldn't, Mr. Jarr did not answer, and Mrs. Jarr continued:

"And don't you be a fool and insist on paying. If the Ranges want to dine at a restaurant, let them pay the check."

"Don't you think the best way for us to do would be to divide the expense?" asked Mr. Jarr.

"No, I don't. Nobody ever does anything for us," said Mrs. Jarr. "and besides I'm very short this week and I have no money for expensive dinners in public restaurants. Let the Ranges pay for it. They suggested it."

"You suggested it," said Mr. Jarr.

"But they asked us to dinner at their house, and she has no girl; and she always has chicken and I'm tired of chicken," said Mrs. Jarr. "Her chicken is always tough and half-cooked, too!"

"Well, we're escaping that," replied Mr. Jarr. "so don't get peevish."

"I do get peevish because you are such a softy and you let everybody impose on you!" cried Mrs. Jarr. "If we have to pay half the bill I don't see what advantage there is in going out to dinner with other people. When one is afraid one will have to pay the bill one orders all the cheap dishes, and doesn't order very much at that. Oh, well, I don't suppose there is any use to worry. But you mind what I say and don't insist on paying for everything."

At this juncture Mr. and Mrs. Rangle joined them and the two families went downtown together.

"What do the ladies want?" asked Mr. Rangle.

"The chicken good?" asked Mrs. Jarr of the waiter.

The waiter had nothing but praise for the chicken. (He worked there, but he didn't eat there.)

"Well, I won't have any," said Mrs. Jarr. "The only person that knows how to cook chicken properly is Mrs. Rangle. You must tell me how to do it, dear! Look at that woman over there. Just look at her!" Mrs. Rangle looked and giggled.

"Never mind the people here," said Mr. Jarr. "What are you going to order?"

"If you were here alone you would be minding them," said Mrs. Jarr. "But when you are with your wife and respectable people!"

"What do you men see in such creatures?" remarked Mrs. Rangle. "I don't know, but they are the kind they seem to prefer!" said Mrs. Jarr. It looked like a pleasant evening—not after debating everything on the card they ordered fried chicken, as it was about the cheapest thing.

The waiter had been misinformed. The chicken wasn't good.

"There's one piece of bread left," said Mr. Jarr, with forced gaiety. "Whoever eats it will be an old maid."

"Whoever eats the last piece will make a happy and prosperous marriage," said Mrs. Rangle. And both she and Mrs. Jarr reached for it, and commenced breaking it in half.

"Funny you women should be so superstitious! You both are married," said Rangle.

"We may marry again, and have better luck next time," said Mrs. Rangle, coldly.

Oh, it was a jolly dinner party! Yes, Mr. Rangle paid the check.

But that was because it was only $4.10, Mrs. Jarr said. There is nothing like going with your friends and having a good, jolly time

Harold: Oh, well, there's safety in numbers, you know.

Pert Katie.

I S my hair coming down, Katie? asked the lady, with her hand to her head.

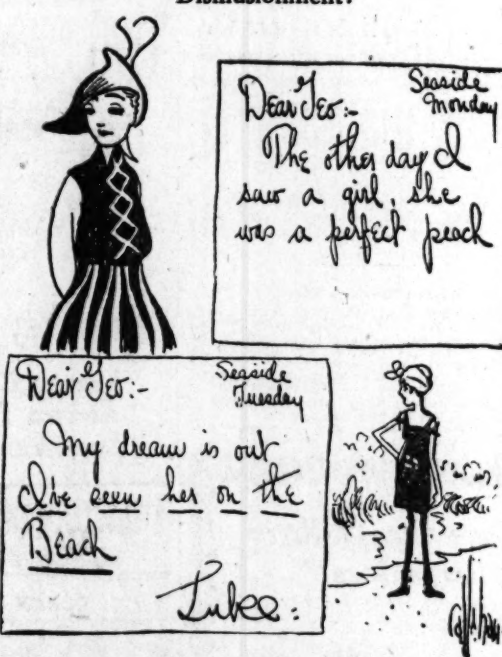

"Yes, ma'am," replied the girl. "I'm going right upstairs to get it now."

I S so good to the children?"

"Very. She lets them do everything their father doesn't want them to do."

Disillusionment!

HITS FROM SHARP WITS

Some persons' mental processes are so highly refined that they cannot take hold of common-sense thoughts.—Albany Journal.

The greatest task one has in "working his way to the top" is the job of alighting over those who are standing still.

The average reformer is a man who looks after his fellows' morals to the detriment of his own.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

When it comes to running into debt all cylinders are usually found to be hitting pretty regularly.—Columbian State.

Evil Communication.

NATION after nation has found itself drawn into this world war. Evil communications corrupt good manners, you know. You can't touch pitch and remain undefiled.

"It's like the man who returned a parrot he'd bought the month before."

"I want my money back for this bird," he said.

"Why, what's the matter with it?" asked the dealer.

"W-w-w," said the man, angrily, "the d-d-durn thing st-st-stutters!"

Applied Chemistry.

FOR an hour a teacher had dwelt with painful iteration on the part played by carbohydrates, proteins and fats respectively in the upkeep of the human body. At the end of the lesson the usual test questions were put, among them:

"Can any girl tell me the three foods required to keep the body in health?"

There was silence till one maiden held up her hand and replied:

"Ter breakfast, yer dinner and yer tea."

Don't Ever Let Anyone Tell You This as a New One

"I'm an astronomer."

"How's business?"

"Looking up."

Turn Him Loose.

THE car was going at least 40 miles an hour," testified the constable. "It was all I could do to get out of the way."

"Your Honor," objected the defendant, "that is a lie on the face of it. If my car had been going as fast as he says it was I'd have got him, no matter how quick he jumped."

Not Always Iron.

I S it true that only people with an excess of iron in their systems have a tendency to freckles?" asked the summer girl of her father.

"I don't believe it is," replied Dad. "That young chap who goes bathing with you has an excess of brass, and he's got freckles."

Putting it Up to Dad.

LITTLE WILLIE's father, as he laid on the slipper, said:

"Willie, this hurts me more, far more, than it does you."

"Then keep it up," said little Willie, grinding his teeth. Keep it up, dad, I can stand it."

The Flat Next Door.

I CANNOT sing the old-time songs," she warbled loud and high.

"That's right—you can't," a neighbor said.

"For goodness sake, don't try!"

Villain, I defy you.

heroine, drawing herself to her full height, "Do your worst."

"Don't ask him to do that, Miss," pleaded a voice from the gallery. "His acting is bad enough as it is."

Good Advice.

I SUFFER terribly from indigestion, Doctor. What shall I take for it?"

"It isn't so much what you take," replied the physician. "It's what you stop taking."

Whereupon he proceeded to make out a long list of the things his patient might not eat.

Evening Things Up.

WHAT is the reason ice is so high this summer?" inquired the lady of the house.

"It's like this," said the iceman. "The early part of the summer was so cool that there wasn't much demand for ice, so we had to raise the price so we could make a living."

First Thing to Do.

NOW, my son," said the employer, "I have engaged Mr. Pushem to systematize the work of the plant. By his methods we expect to increase the efficiency of each department fully 50 per cent. Have any of you a suggestion as to where Mr. Pushem should begin?"

"If it's efficiency you're after, sir," suggested a horny-handed son of toil, "you might test this man Pushem on your son, who is keeping the public informed of his rapid advancement from one department to another, while he gains a thorough working knowledge of the business."

The Crimean war saw the camera first used as a recorder of military history. The device was but sixteen years old at that time.

Kill Germs and Save Human Life

The menace of militarism, the horrors of war and the toll of death taken in all frightful accidents is as nothing compared to the danger of unseen deadly germs.

Even in war itself the toll of human life taken outright by the whizzing bullet, the bursting shrapnel, or the piercing steel is less than that caused by the unseen deadly germs that attack the wounded and the well alike.

Human life will be lengthened and human happiness increased when we learn better to guard ourselves against the danger of the ever present germs of disease.

Powdered boric is one of Nature's most wonderful gifts to man, for it enables us, through antiseptics, to ward off the danger of infection.

Owing to its wonderful antiseptic properties it cannot be too highly recommended for liberal use in the care of the person wherever and whenever exposed to the germs of disease.

Pure powdered boric may be used with absolute freedom and safety in all the natural cavities of the body. To realize how healing it is, yet how safe, we have but to recall that the physician almost always prescribes it as the principal ingredient of an eye water.

The manufacture of powdered boric has been brought to such a high degree of efficiency by one concern that if we always remember to specify "30 Mule Team Powdered Boric" we know that we have the real article in full strength.

On every package of 30 Mule Team Powdered Boric will be found directions for its multitude of uses and the expense is so little that no one should ever be without it.

A solution of 30 Mule Team Powdered Boric in water makes an absolute and positive antiseptic for all personal use. It is excellent for a shampoo, for it kills the germ which makes the dandruff that spoils the lustre of the hair and causes it to fall out and cease to grow.

It should be used as a mouth wash on account of its antiseptic qualities whenever there is the slightest danger of having been exposed by being brought in contact with persons suffering with colds, sore throats, etc.

To overcome the unpleasant effect consequent upon excessive perspiration the use of 30 Mule Team Powdered Boric will give great satisfaction, making everything sweet and clean and healing any abrasion that may have occurred.

A hot foot bath with a liberal quantity of 30 Mule Team Powdered Boric will make the feet feel ten years younger.

For the baby a liberal dusting with 30 Mule Team Powdered Boric not only assures freedom from chafing but helps to maintain an antiseptically clean condition on the little body.

To any cut or abrasion 30 Mule Team Powdered Boric should be freely applied.

30 Mule Team Powdered Boric is a foe to germ life. It should be on the dressing table of every dainty woman and liberally used in every household where health is prized.

Authorized representative will soon call at your home and make arrangements for you to obtain FREE, a full size package of 30 Mule Team Powdered Boric from any of the local druggists.
